BIG DRIVE IS FAILURE, GERMANY'S ASSERTION

Capture of Tutrakan Is Cause of Great Rejoicing in Berlin; Belief Is Strong No Serious Reverses Will Be Suffered

FRENCH REPULSE ALL ATTACKS ON SOMME

British Make Successful Raids on Trenches Southeast of Guinchy, Inflict Great Loss and Take 52 Prisoners

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—The allies have lost more than a million men in killed, wounded and missing since the grand offensive against the central powers opened with a Russian attack three months ago. This estimate was made today by German military experts, who said they thought it conservative.

Against these losses the allied armies have only the conquest of Bukovina and some Galician territory by the Russians, the capture of Gorizia by the Italians, a shallow thrust into the German lines on the Somme and the occupation of mountainous Transylvanian territory by the Rumanians. The capture of these achievements, the allies of the central powers, keeping their lines intact everywhere under tremendous pressure, at the same time struck back with successful blows in the Balkans. The Bulgarians advanced on both flanks to positions commanding the Balkan passes, German and Bulgarian forces struck a severe blow against the Rumanians by occupying Tutrakan fortress, one of the bridge-heads pending the Bucharest.

DETAILED ESTIMATE.
The losses of the allies as conservatively estimated here follow: Russian, 600,000; British, 230,000; French, 150,000; Italian, Serbian and Rumanian combined, 50,000.

Some Austrian experts and a number of German experts have estimated the Russian losses at more than 600,000 and the combined British and French losses at more than 400,000. Official casualty lists given out at London show British losses of about 125,000 for the month of August alone.

DANGER HAS PASSED.
The danger on any serious reverse on either the western or eastern fronts is believed to have passed. But any additional gains, it is held here, must be made at such a frightful additional cost in human lives and with such an extravagant waste of resources that the people of the allied countries will cry for peace.

News of the capture of Tutrakan fortress and the surrender of 20,000 Rumanians aroused more enthusiasm here than even the military importance of the victory justified. Next to an invasion of England, no movement would be more popular here than a drive northward to the capital of Rumania, because of the universal opinion that the Rumanians had treacherously deserted their allies in declaring war.

ASSAULTS FUTILE.
PARIS, Sept. 8.—The news and particularly violent attacks were made by the Germans on the Somme front last night in an effort to regain ground won by the French. The war office announced today that the German assaults were futile, the French holding their ground everywhere. The German attacks were made in strong force on the front between Berny and Chaumes, where the fighting was especially heavy between Verdun and Chaumes. The Germans preceded their infantry assaults with intense bombardments. The French made no effort to regain the ground won by the French yesterday on the Verdun front between Vaux-Chapelle Wood and Chenevilles, where a mile of the German front line had been carried. The official report says the German onslaughts were unsuccessful.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.
LONDON, Sept. 8.—British troops southwest of Lille last night raided the German trenches southeast of Guinchy and near Fiechbourg L'Avoue, inflicting severe losses on their occupants. The British official statement issued this afternoon. The statement says:

Beyond the usual artillery activity and some local bombing fights there was nothing to report on the Somme front. Two officers and fifty men were brought in as prisoners yesterday. Southeast of Guinchy and near Fiechbourg L'Avoue we raided

British Admiralty Aid to U. S. Navy

It May Not Be Known to Government

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—The American navy, in its need for auxiliary tonnage, has had to lean on the British admiralty. It isn't on record that the American navy knew that it was leaning on the British admiralty, but, in the light of disclosures today, it is known that, wittingly or unwittingly, it did. But, anyhow, it helped the American navy in a pinch, and the British may have needed the money.

The British steamer Blackheath was chartered by the United States navy to bring coal from Norfolk, Va., to San Francisco because there were no American colliers available. It is frequently done, and, as in this instance, the vessels used are of foreign registry and make the voyage in direct violation of the coastwise shipping laws, which prohibit the use of foreign bottoms in coastal trade, a legal infraction which would bring a fine upon an individual.

Today, to the interest and more or less to the consternation of American shipping men, who, from time to time, have bid upon government coal carrying, the Blackheath now discharging at California City, was disclosed as a full fledged British admiralty steamer. It is going to load a cargo of lumber on this coast for the war department of Great Britain.

The Blackheath got $8.50 a ton for bringing the coal here, a little less than it would have cost to send the fuel by rail. The United States got its coal delivered, and the British admiralty, which negotiated the charter through the firm of Panch, Eddy & Co. of New York, paid the expense of sending the ship out here.

And, in the words of one local shipping man, "it may be all right, but it looks funny."

Autos Collide; Four Women Thrown Out

Four women narrowly escaped serious injury last evening when an automobile driven by Mrs. Rupert Whitehead, wife of Rupert Whitehead, wealthy stock and bond broker, with offices in the First National Bank building, collided with a motor car driven by Charles Rosenbaum, 1324 Magnolia street, at Fifty-fifth avenue, and the Pothill boulevard.

Mrs. Whitehead received serious injury to her legs and one foot. The other three women, Miss Blanche Mills of 433 Orchard street and her two guests, Miss Louise Jones and Miss Caryl George, escaped without injury.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Whitehead swung her car into the boulevard from Fifty-fifth avenue. Rosenbaum, driving in a westerly direction, did not see the car with the party of women until too late to avert the collision. The automobile skidded to the side of the road and the four women were thrown out.

Mrs. Whitehead was injured when the rear wheel of the car passed over her legs. Miss Mills, Miss Jones and Miss George were thrown clear of the car and received only abrasions and contusions.

A passing motorist removed Mrs. Whitehead to her home, 3441 Fifty-fifth avenue. Dr. W. S. Porter was summoned. She was later removed to the Merritt hospital, where an operation was performed, and again taken to her home.

Zepp Death Ground Given to England

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The site on the hillside at Cutley, where Lieutenant William Loete Robinson of the Royal Flying Corps brought down a Zeppelin during the German air raid on the east coast of England Sunday night has been presented to the nation by its owner, Mrs. Kidston. The gift is made in the understanding that a suitable monument shall be erected by public subscription on the spot where the Zeppelin fell.

Queen of Holland Goes Down in Diver

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 8.—Queen Wilhelmina of Holland has enjoyed the experience of a plunge under water in a submarine. The queen was present at the naval maneuvers yesterday, according to the Nieuws Van Den Dag, aboard a submarine which diverged twice while her majesty was a passenger.

House Considered 18,442 Measures

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—During the session of Congress closing today 17,800 bills and 642 resolutions were introduced in the House. Of these 252 bills became laws and thirty-three public resolutions were adopted, in addition to 150 private bills and resolutions passed.

The enemy trenches, inflicting severe casualties. The enemy shelled Armentieres (northwest of Lille) yesterday evening.

YOUNG BRIDE KILLS GROOM AND HERSELF

Dread of Separation Leads Girl Wife to Turn on the Gas When Pleas Fail to Gain Youth's Consent to Remain

Lure of Sea Attracts Husband to Accept Position Aboard Transpacific Liner; Threat of Woman Is Fulfilled

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Preferring death for herself and her youthful husband to a separation, Myrtle Carter, 20 years old, the one-month bride of Dayton Carter, 21 years old, turned on the gas last night in their room in a lodging-house at 456 Harrison street. This morning the bodies of the young couple were found cold in death, the bride peacefully reposing in bed and the husband lying prone on the floor near the door, as though he had awakened sufficiently to the danger to try to reach the open air.

Carter, who is a machinist by trade, was offered an opportunity to go to sea in a good berth on a transpacific liner. His bride did not want him to go and informed several people in the lodging-house that she would never permit him to leave her. She was overheard pleading with him not to accept the position, which would separate them for an indefinite period.

Evidently Carter was determined to go despite the opposition of his young wife and she desperately took the only step which would unite them forever—in death. From the mute evidence in the room, it is believed that Mrs. Carter waited until her husband was asleep, quietly arose, in the dead of night and opened wide the gas jet which communicated with a cooking stove in the housekeeping rooms. Then she returned to her place by her husband's side and waited for death with a smile upon her lips.

Carter must have been aroused by the odor of gas and tried to reach the door. But before he could attain his object he fell forward upon the floor, choked by his fumes, and expired.

That Mrs. Carter was of a melancholy temperament is shown by the fact that she twice before attempted to take her life by means of gas. The attempts were made before her marriage, while she was living in the Trocadero House on Broadway.

Italian Railroads Raise Freight Rates

ROME, Sept. 8.—Railroad freights in Italy have been raised 10 per cent. It is estimated that by this action government railroad revenues will be increased $3,000,000 annually. The object in raising the rates was to obtain money to pay extra wages of the railway employees totalling $4,000,000, which were granted recently after complaints by the men of the high cost of living and the extra work entailed by reason of the war.

Two Student Airmen Are Injured in Fall

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Flying between 600 and 700 feet over Governor's Island today, a biplane containing J. Walter W. Struthers and Chas. D. Wyman, student aviators, in training for the aero reserve corps authorized recently by President Wilson, became unmanageable and fell to the ground. Each aviator had one leg broken and received cuts and possibly internal injuries. Both are expected to recover.

Striker Dies From Blows in Street Fight

SEATTLE, Sept. 8.—Joseph McDonald, a striking union longshoreman, died yesterday from injuries received in a street fight on Wednesday night. He went to the room of a friend that night to wash blood from his head and said he had been beaten by two union men. The friend did not call for medical aid, thinking McDonald's injuries not serious. Mr. Donald was dead in bed when his host returned home last night.

Cuba Preparing for Election Day

HAVANA, Sept. 8.—The secretary of government today issued a decree forbidding until further notice the importation of firearms and requiring all firms selling firearms to report within fifteen days on the stock they have on hand. The order is supposed to be a precautionary measure against possible disorders at the coming election.

Two East African Ports in British Hands

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The ports of Kilwa Kivinye and Kilwa Kisiwani, in German East Africa, respectively 150 and 175 miles south of Dar-Es-Salaam, have surrendered to the British under threat of a bombardment, according to an official statement issued tonight giving details of the recent surrender of Dar-Es-Salaam.

Rumanians Occupy Iron Gate to Hungary

LONDON, Sept. 8.—A Bucharest despatch to the Times today reported that the Rumanians have occupied Orsova, the iron gate to Hungary. Occupation of Orsova has been reported from several sources recently, but the reports thus far have not been confirmed by the Rumanian war office.

FACTORY RISK NOT COVERED, SAYS EXPERT

Factory Owners Plan to Have All Policies Now Held Vised by Expert, Following Meeting at Which Defects Are Told

Business Men Are Careless, Is Charge; Fail to Read Clauses and Allow Stenographers to Sign; Gasoline Provoker

Oakland factory and business men today are busy scanning their insurance policies and local agents are revising clauses in their clients' protective policies as the result of a new "safety first insurance" movement started last night in the manufacturers' committee of the Chamber of Commerce. A meeting will be held in the near future, at which practically every factoryman in the organization will have his policy before the committee for inspection and correction.

This plan, outlined today, is the result of a stormy session last night. Technicalities, Supreme Court decisions and personalities flew thick and fast at the meeting. R. E. LoRantz, insurance expert and former adjuster, appeared before the committee to prove his contention that half of the Oakland policies are incorrectly drawn. Step by step local agents contested his statements. He intrenched himself behind a wall of Supreme Court decisions.

BUSINESS MEN CARELESS.

LoRantz did not attack any insurance company, nor did he place the whole blame upon agents for the conditions he outlined. He declared that the business men taking insurance are to blame, in that they do not, in many cases, read their own policies or understand them. He also held that in many cases the agents, too, take too much for granted in their policies.

LoRantz said that a local agent, who first clashed with LoRantz, had offered a policy, owned by a local jeweler, that had been expounded by LoRantz and read a long printed list of things insured, these ranging from goods in the city and county to "You have insured everything under the sun in this policy," should Brandt. "And most of them the jeweler has not got in his place."

LoRantz will admit that the policy holder is insured for more things than he has, said Brandt, but that it makes no difference. Your objection seems to be not that he has protection, but that he has too much protection. But, as a matter of fact, that is a policy, and the insured is supposed to cross out what he does not want. This policy holder crossed out nothing.

OALIS IT BUNK.

"But why use all these forms?" demanded Brandt. "Because if you did not, the insured would not know what he was getting insurance," said LoRantz.

"Then all these lists are a lot of bunk," returned Brandt. "I would not put it as strongly as that," said LoRantz. These lists have been demanded because of the activities of some adjusters.

"Well, you say a lot of policies are invalid and have quoted a lot of technicalities to us," said Brandt. "Have you ever heard of an insurance company making a case to court on a technicality?"

"No, they do not work that way," said LoRantz. "The adjuster comes around and tells the policy holder his policy is not right, and then they what? They make a case to court?"

"It is the same thing," said LoRantz. "It involves changing a few words and is perfectly simple."

Harry Schroeder demanded an explanation of insurance of goods left for instance, in a warehouse. "In this case the insured is responsible for the goods and must have a policy covering damage to goods left in the premises. An ordinary policy would make it hard to collect on these," said LoRantz.

GASOLINE BANNED.

Gasoline, according to LoRantz, proved the principal danger to factories. The standard policy, he says, gives permission to carry only less than a quart of the material. Unless specifically stated in the "rider," or additional clauses, the more than that quantity could be used, the policy is useless in case gasoline is stored, he said.

"All goods necessary" or "any materials desired to be used," he said, is not sufficient permission for gasoline under the law.

"A bank building may have a hundred tenants," LoRantz said. "And each one, insuring his office furnishings, has permission to keep a quart of gasoline. Still the bank has permission to keep only a quart in the building. You can see what would happen."

Campus Favorite Is Incarcerated

Spends Time in the County Jail But! Lo! It Was for Science Sake

MISS ELSIE MCCORMICK, UNIVERSITY GIRL WHO WENT TO JAIL TO GAIN EXPERIENCE FOR SOCIOLOGICAL WORK

Miss Elsie McCormick, Prominent U. C. Girl, Studies Sociological Conditions in Jail

BERKELEY, Sept. 8.—Miss Elsie McCormick, one of the most prominent girls graduating with last year's University of California class, has been in jail. Far from being shunned for that fact by her campus acquaintances, to whom she has returned for graduate work, Miss McCormick is being roundly praised for her ingenuity and pluck.

For it was in pursuance of her sociological studies that the young graduate, not only got herself arrested in the city and county jail, but spent many days in the city and county jail studying prison conditions in general, and women prisoners in particular. For the period of her incarceration her daily companions were two counterfeiter, an embezzler, a perjurer and a lady burglar.

Miss McCormick was one of the most prominent contributors last year and the year before to campus publications, in particular to the "Student Opinion." Especially did she appeal as the champion of her own sex, and the masculine element on the campus winced from many a blow she struck. She was graduated in May with honors and immediately began a practical study of sociological conditions for which she had been training in theory. The "getting arrested" was one of her first studies. She says:

"I have been in jail this summer. If I had been regularly committed I would probably say that I spent the vacation at Long Beach and would show picture postcards to prove it. Since my imprisonment was the result of a conspiracy with the sheriff of San Francisco, I am frank about admitting it. Neither the matron or the prisoners knew that my commitment had not been legal. As a result I learned many strange things about the happenings behind the barred windows, in the queer, topsy-turvy world that is shrouded by the fogs of Ingleside. I met a shop-lifter, who could preach a sermon and a drug fiend who debated on woman suffrage. And during the days that I spent peeling potatoes in the dingy jail kitchen, all the traditions and etiquette of prison life were revealed to me."

Miss McCormick is busy now tabulating her notes as jotted down in the jail at spare moments. She intends at a future time to publish some of the jail pictures and experiences which she found.

LOBBYISTS SCORED AS CONGRESS ADJOURNS

Act of Conferees in Striking Blacklist Reprisal Provisions From Revenue Bill Is Cause of Recrimination in Senate

SESSION APPROPRIATES NEARLY TWO BILLION

Final Meeting Marked by Little Business and It Lasts Only Two Hours; Many Members Not Present at Ceremonies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The Senate lobby committee will investigate charges of Senator Chamberlain, made on the floor late last night that Sir Joseph Polk and other Canadian officials lobbied against adoption of the Chamberlain amendment to the revenue bill. This would have prevented admission into the United States of halibut or salmon from the North Pacific, except when the fish were sent in bond from an American port.

The investigation was ordered by a resolution introduced today by Senator Curtis just before adjournment of Congress and adopted without a vote. The lobby charge was made by Senator Chamberlain, Oregon, when the conference committee reported the amendment adopted by the Senate had been struck out. Chamberlain declared, stating out the action was a "humiliating and disgraceful surrender by the United States to the Canadian government in the interest of Canadian commercial interests."

SECURITY RESOLUTION.

Girls' resolution was tabled but he introduced a second one saying: "It is charged a lobby representing a foreign government has lobbied against passage of a resolution which would have protected an American industry against commercial aggrandizement by an industry of a foreign country."

The session that lasted longer and saw more dramatic moments than any in recent history and that had appropriated more money than any Congress preceding it, came to a close amid scenes of the contained little of the spectacular.

The Senate waited until 9:40 o'clock today to adopt the joint resolution setting the adjournment hour. The House and Senate adjourned at 10 o'clock. The adjournment resolution early last night. During a two-hour morning session there was only a slight undercurrent of real work, but a lot of speech-making and some fur.

At the same moment hostilities and hilarities in the House stopped at the appearance of House Leader Kitchin, Representative Fitzgerald, and Representative Mann, who had waited on the President, received the same message.

SHOUT GREETING GAVEL.

A shout went up as Speaker Clark banged the gavel and declared the session ended.

Many Senators appeared today with only a wash face, a bit of breakfast and a catnap on a couch to show for the brief respite since adjourning early this morning.

More arrived at the capitol just in time to vote on the motion that passed the last session of the Sixty-fourth Congress into the Congressional archives. Many left Washington last night, and another exodus today carried additional members to their political stamping grounds.

REPORT NEXT SESSION.

The resolution directing the lobby investigation provides for a report at the next session of Congress. Senator Reed, Democrat, a member of the lobby committee, said he believed it high time for the American government to show other nations that it regarded as offensive any efforts to influence legislation in Congress.

SEES BLOW AT UNITED STATES.

Senator Lewis, Democrat, urged that if anything should be investigated it should be the recent demands of Japan for a revision of the tariff. Apparently they were in retaliation for the attitude of this country toward admission of the Japanese.

Senator Owen announced that he would not further press his copyright bill at this session, but would let it remain the unfinished business and call it up again next session.

Recapitulation of the nine months' work showed that had been appropriated for the year 1917 for expenditures of the government more than $1,600,000,000, and that authorization had been made for future expenditures of $1,600,000,000, and that grand aggregate of appropriations almost to the $2,000,000,000 mark. Administration champions in informal reviews of the Congress answered Republican taunts of a "two Congress" with declarations that the "United States is a two billion dollar country."

LOBBYIST PROBE IS U. S. PLAN

Congress Directs Senate Committee to Investigate Charges Foreign Governments Used Influence in Reprisal Action

Last Session Before Adjournment Marked by Recrimination in Senate; Assertion Is That 'Surrender Disgraceful'

Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia announced that such a measure could not pass for several years if he could prevent it.

Senator Owen then addressed the Senate on his corrupt practices bill, withdrawing the bill Senator Owen said that the Democrats had broken its platform pledge relating to such an act, but charged that a Republican filibuster was responsible for the dilatory tactics which had prevented a vote.

"I profoundly regret that the leaders of the Republican side have taken a position against this bill," said he. "There is nothing about it that could not be adjusted and it ought to be notice to the moral element of the country of what may be expected in the coming election."

CHAMBERLAIN PROTESTS. Senator Chamberlain of Oregon protesting against the action of the revenue conferees in striking from the bill the amendment which would prohibit the admission of Pacific oyster salmon and halibut through a foreign country except in bond from an American port, declared Congress had surrendered an opportunity to develop a great American industry.

"Talk about a great American industry," he cried, "what is that industry? A distinguished gentleman representing the Canadian government, Sir Joseph Roche, while he may not have besetted Congress, has been besieging officials of this government to discourage this measure."

Senator Curtis offered another resolution directing the Senate lobby committee, which has been in existence for several years and has never reported, to investigate the alleged foreign lobby. Senator Chamberlain urged its adoption.

The homestead grazing bill was passed without a record vote. It already had passed the House. It provides for stock raising homesteads, raising the maximum area which may be entered for that purpose from 160 to 640 acres.

LEADERS FELICITATE. When the House convened Speaker Clark, Democratic leader, and Republican Leader Mann and a small number of members on both sides went on the floor to watch the wind-up. Speaker Clark and Republican Leader Mann exchanged the usual felicitations.

Speaker Clark addressed the House, and referred to the session of Congress as a long, tedious and laborious session.

"No session of Congress in my recollection," he said, "stayed in session so many days and worked so much."

"I am the only man," the speaker went on, amid applause, "I know of who invariably takes up cudgels for Congress. It is a strange predicament that we are in this country. Nearly everyone would like an office, many run for office, few get office, and everybody abuses those who do get it. I think that the reason that they get on and do not hurt anybody is that Congress is that it is impersonal and does not hurt anybody's feelings in particular. Some day I am going to take a whole hour to discuss the relations of the American Congress to the American people."

Soon after the President reached the capitol the revenue bill was ready for the signature. The Senate adopted the concurrent resolution for a 10 o'clock adjournment, which had been passed in the House.

WILSON SIGNS BILL. President Wilson signed the emergency revenue bill at 9:25 o'clock in the presence of Senator Simmons, and Representative Kitchen, of the ways and means committee. The President held a reception in his representatives passed the bill while he sat at the table signing bills.

To Senator Simmons the President expressed gratification over the passage of the revenue bill and its many legislative features. He said, however, that he greatly regretted the failure of the Webb bill to provide for establishment of American collective selling agencies in foreign countries. Senator Simmons also expressed regret that the measure had failed, but said it would be passed at the next session.

The President was about to sign the twenty dollar widows pension bill with Representative Ashbrook, Ohio, its sponsor, by his side. Senators Smith of Georgia and Bryan of Florida, who had vigorously opposed the bill until the last minute, entered the President's room and Ashbrook asked them to witness the signature. The President smiled as the two Senators hurried away.

PRESIDENT IS NOTIFIED. At 9:30 o'clock the Senate appointed Senators Kern and Smoot to notify the President that Congress was to adjourn unless he had some further communication to present. They were joined by Representatives Fitzgerald and Mann, the House committee, and the joint committee waited on the President at 9:35 o'clock.

The President congratulated the President Wilson Praises Congress

Lack of Labor Legislation Causes Regret

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—President Wilson, in a formal statement today, warmly praised the session of Congress just closed. At the same time he expressed his regret that it had not had time to complete the railway dispute legislation proposed and declared his expectation that the entire program would be completed by the next session. The statement follows:

"A very remarkable session of Congress has just closed, full, as all recent sessions of Congress have been, of hearty and humane legislation which contributes to the defense, the economic progress and the whole life of the country."

"It is to be regretted that the session could not have continued long enough to complete the program recently projected with regard to the accommodation of labor disputes between the railroad and the employees, but it was not feasible in the circumstances to continue the session any longer and therefore only the most immediate pressing parts of the program could be completed."

"The rest, it is agreed, has been postponed until it can be more naturally deliberated and perfected. I have every reason to believe that it is the purpose of the leaders of both houses immediately upon the re-assembling of Congress to undertake this additional legislation. It is evident that the country should be relieved of the anxiety which must have been visited upon recent events with regard to the future accommodation of such disputes."

SUFFRAGISTS NOT TO ASK PLEDGE

Resolution to Govern Support at Polls Defeated in Convention

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 8.—The National Woman Suffrage Association convention defeated by an overwhelming vote today a resolution that the association in the present national campaign support only those candidates for national office who pledged their support to the passage of the Susan B. Anthony amendment for a federal conditional amendment. The resolution was offered by Mrs. Raymond Robbins of Chicago and a number of other delegates.

Delegates to the convention here who say they expect to be enfranchised before many years have passed are taking time by the forelock and learning how to vote. In carrying out the election the women are using voting machines in order to be able to vote without making a mistake. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, national president of the organization, tried one in New York a week ago and voted a full ticket in seventeen seconds. With the exception of three officers who have announced they will retire after the present officers expect to be re-elected. So far as the learned Mrs. Catt has no opposition for president. It is said Mrs. Walter McNab Miller of Columbia, Mo., will be elected first vice-president to succeed Mrs. Frank M. Reisinger of Pittsburgh, Pa.

HUNTERS KILLING DOES IN HILLS

Game Wardens Find Bodies of Many Slain Animals Abandoned.

HAYWARD, Sept. 8.—Mutilated in wanton sport and left to die on the hillsides, the bodies of more than twenty does have been found in the hills around game wardens, according to William Dirks, of the State Fish and Game Commission. One doe was found in the hills near Pleasant by a farmer with one of his head shot off. Game wardens were summoned to put the animal out of suffering, but it died before their arrival.

Hunters are not allowed to shoot does, but Dirks says, do not scruple to fire at one when they get a chance. As the body would incriminate them if they were accused by a game warden, they leave the doe dead or dying on the hillside.

It is difficult to effect an arrest in such cases, but hunters who are caught shooting does will be severely punished, Dirks declared. The State Fish and Game Commission is endeavoring to keep up the number of deer in this country, where there are none too plentiful, but the practice of shooting does is likely to frustrate their plans to a large extent.

Kaiser Congratulates Bulgarian Ruler

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—The emperor has sent the following telegram to the King of Bulgaria, it is officially announced:

"I have learned that the allied troops have captured the fortress of Tutul (Tutul). Accept my heartfelt congratulations on this brilliant feat of arms of your brave soldiers, from which our brave enemy may realize that we not only know how to defend ourselves, but may win even in his own country. May God help further. FAITHFULLY, WILHELM."

Important Change in Income Tax Law

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The conferees on the revenue bill pointed out an important change in the income tax law as the finally approved bill. The $4000 exemption, instead of the $3000 one to "heads of families" whether married or not, replacing the provision of the old law that larger exemption only to "married persons."

Ella Flagg Young to Work for Wilson

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, former superintendent of schools of Chicago, will work for the interest of President Wilson in his campaign, it was announced today at the Western Democratic national headquarters.

RELIEF BILL SIGNED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—President Wilson has signed the Federal relief bill, providing relief for Government employees injured at their work.

Leaders on the opportunity for a well-earned rest. Officially he informed them he had nothing further to communicate to the Congress. When they left the President's room, the chief executive was joined by Secretary Lansing, who chattered with him as he continued to sign bills.

Senator Kern notified the Senate at 9:55 o'clock that the President had nothing further to communicate. Thereupon Senator Nelson of Minnesota offered a resolution of thanks to the Vice-President for his impartial conduct in presiding over the Senate. The resolution was adopted and the Vice-President thanked the Senate in a brief address. Thereupon the Senate adjourned sine die at 9:58 o'clock.

MARSHALL MAKES SPEECH.

Vice-President Marshall in his address to the Senate said:

"When I think of the duties of this office I thought it would be a terrible thing to keep silent, but I think I stay here the more I longer it is wiser to keep silent. To face away to leave here, some of us 'to point with pride' and others 'to view with alarm,' but I hope when we all have come back we will have forgotten the animosities of the campaign and will remember that we are good friends."

Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the education committee, made a statement regarding the committee's investigation of organizations which it is alleged under foreign influences have attempted to affect elections of Congressmen. He named the American embargo committee and the American commerce and protective committee among those he wanted investigated to disclose the source of the financial support and to determine whether they have violated the neutrality of the United States or any of the corrupt practices acts, considered by Congress.

'DRY' CANDIDATE ON CAMPAIGN

Presidential Nominee Hanby Starts Tour of Country in Special Train

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—The prohibition party presidential candidate and speaker left Chicago today on a special train for a transcontinental tour. Presidential Candidate J. Frank Hanby of Indiana and Vice-Presidential Candidate Ira Landrith of Nashville, Tenn., headed the party.

The tentative schedule thus far announced will call for a special train into San Francisco September 20. After a twelve-hour swing through a dozen Illinois towns and cities today, closing with three simultaneous meetings this evening in Rock Island, Mo., and Davenport, Ia., the campaigners will bombard eight Wisconsin towns Saturday. They arrive in Minneapolis Sunday. More than 500 towns will be visited on the tour.

Before departing Hanby said:

"We mean to stage and conduct a campaign that will show the new prohibition of the nation. Every indication justifies the belief that the Prohibition party will poll a record vote November 4."

"We intend to poll such a vote that the present Congress will be forced to submit a federal amendment in December. We are fighting not for place but for principle. As prohibition may be defeated, but we aim to elect the issue."

SAN LEANDRO HAS TAX RATE OF $1.09

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 8.—A tax rate of $1.09 for the old town and $1.07 for the new town was decided upon by the town board at an adjourned meeting last night. This is a reduction of 2 cents an year's rate for the old town and an increase of 1 cent for the new town, for which sewer bond indebtedness is responsible. The new town, however, has a lower rate than the old town, as it is called upon to pay a 2-cent tax for the sewer bond of 1913, incurred before annexation.

Three new funds were created by the trustees last night, a good roads fund, which will be maintained by the town's share of the money collected by the county from violation of the motor traffic ordinance; a salary fund and a park and playgrounds fund. Funds for park and playgrounds upkeep and for the payment of salaries have previously been apportioned from the general fund.

The apportionment of the $1.09 tax for the different funds follows: General fund 7 cents, sewer and water 10 cents, street lighting 2 cents, sewer bond of 1913 2 cents, sewer bond of 1917 7 cents, library 7 cents, advertising 3 cents, fire department 5 cents, salary fund 15 cents, park and playgrounds fund 4 cents.

Ten Boy Scouts Pass Tests in Rescue Work

Ten prospective members of the Oakland Scout Masters' life-saving corps of the American Red Cross passed the rescue tests in rescuing from the water and resuscitation last night at Piedmont baths, under the direction of William B. Longfellow, national life-saving commissioner, after the water tests, a meeting for organization was held at which Scout Executive H. R. Wilson was appointed temporary chairman and plans were made for completing the charter.

The meeting to close the charter is called for October 2 at the Boy Scout headquarters, 404 Eleventh street. The fees will be accepted, officers elected and final organization of the corps completed. The scout masters plan to have headquarters on Lake Merritt, near the estuary and to form auxiliary corps among the scouts for swimming, rowing and sailing.

The men from Oakland and Berkeley who passed the required tests are: Alvin Thomas, William Noblitt, F. W. Cozens, Mackey, Stone, R. W. Johnson, S. W. Mackey, H. E. Cozens, Harold, Leo and J. L. Hancock and H. B. Wilson.

Those who attended the meeting and signed their intention of passing the charter are: Alvin Thomas, F. W. Cozens, Mackey, Stone, R. W. Johnson, S. W. Mackey, H. E. Cozens, Harold, Leo and J. L. Hancock and H. B. Wilson.

Divorce Fails; Seeks Spouse's Guardianship

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Following opposition to her suit for divorce and alimony, on the ground that her husband, John O'Shea, was insane, Mrs. May O'Shea today filed suit for the appointment of her husband's estate and guardian of the $20,000 he inherited from his father, Jeremiah O'Shea, a former San Francisco coachman. Following trouble with her husband, Mrs. O'Shea filed suit for divorce, demanding alimony and her brother-in-law, contesting the suit, declared that O'Shea was insane and therefore could not be sued or held for alimony. This was proved by the records.

Today's action is the result of the dismissal of the old suit. O'Shea is a member of one of San Francisco's oldest and best known families. His father made a fortune in building in the early days of the city.

"Trade Opportunities in Orient" to Be Topic

Openings for trade extension into the Orient and opportunities for American sales in China will be discussed before the Chamber of Commerce on September 10, when Julian Arnold, commercial attaché to the United States embassy in China, will speak before the factory men. Arnold has just returned from China, armed with full data as to the needs of merchants there, goods that can be marketed, and information as to business conditions.

John W. Phillips will preside at the meeting, which will be followed by an informal discussion, at which Arnold will take up any individual factory problem offered in connection with Oriental trade.

NO GERMAN ELECTION.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 8.—The Tagesschau Rundschau, a German newspaper, has decided that there shall be no general election during the war. The Reichstag, on reassembling, the newspaper adds, will pass a measure prolonging its life until next January.

Sixty-Fourth Congress

Appropriations $1,637,583,682

Many Important Laws Enacted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The first session of the Sixty-fourth Congress which adjourned today, was concerned chiefly with national defense.

When the general fall Congress had directed reorganization and readjustment of the Army and Navy for defense of the country at the unprecedented cost of $650,000,000, with authorizations that will increase the total in three years to nearly $800,000,000. With all other expenditures, appropriations were brought to the grand total of $1,637,583,682, the greatest aggregate in the country's history and exceeding that for the purchase of the Danish West Indies for $25,000,000.

Expenditures, necessitated by preparedness and the calling into action of military forces to meet the Mexican emergency, demanded revenue legislation in the closing days of the session. Congress responded by doubling the normal tax on incomes, creating an inheritance tax, munitions tax and miscellaneous excise taxes to raise $20,000,000 and by directing sale of $150,000,000 Panama Canal bonds.

Most important legislative enactments of the session, exclusive of laws for national defense, included the following: Government Ship Law—Appropriating $50,000,000 to operate ships in foreign and coastwise trade when unable to lease them to individuals or private corporations.

CHILD LABOR LAW. Child Labor Law—Denying interstate commerce to products of mines and quarries employing children under 16 years of age, and factories, mills, canneries and other establishments employing children under 14 years.

STURGEON LAW. Establishing a farm loan board in control of a system of farm loan mortgage banks.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW. Providing uniform sick and accident benefits for employees of the Federal Government, and benefits to dependents in case of death.

EMERGENCY REVENUE LAW. Providing for doubling the normal income tax on the lowest rates, making an additional surtax ranging from 10 to 20 per cent on incomes exceeding $20,000 to thirteen per cent on incomes in excess of $2,000,000; levying a graduated tax of 1 per cent on inheritances ranging from $50,000 to $5,000,000; a ten per cent net profit tax on manufacturers of munitions, five per cent net profit tax on manufacturers of materials entering into munitions; a license tax on actually invested capital stock of corporations capitalized at more than $50,000; retail beer and liquor excise taxes and miscellaneous stamp taxes.

FOR POST ROADS. Post Roads Law—Providing for cooperative Federal aid to the States for construction of highways, and appropriating $75,000,000 to be spent in five years.

POSTAL SAVINGS LAW. Authorizing increasing the amount which individuals may deposit from $500 to $1000 without interest and an additional $1000 without interest.

FEDERAL RESERVE AMENDMENTS. Including amendment to the Clayton anti-trust law permitting officers and directors of member banks to become officers and directors of more than two other non-counting commercial banks and permitting national banks to establish foreign branches, liberalizing regulations for discounting commercial paper and permitting members banks in towns of 5000 or less population to act as agents for insurance companies.

RAILROAD EIGHT-HOUR DAY LAW. Establishing eight hours as the standard for employees operating trains in interstate commerce after January 1, 1919, providing for a commission of three to investigate the effects of the eight-hour day, and to report to the President during the investigation, not later than three days thereafter, and work in excess of eight hours to be paid for at a pro rata rate.

RAILROAD LEGISLATION. Railroad Legislation—Creation of a joint subcommittee of Senate and House Interstate Commerce Committee to investigate necessity for further legislation on railroads and the Interstate Commerce Commission, questioning of government ownership of public utilities, and other active work of government ownership as against government regulation.

TARIFF—CREATION OF A TRAFFIC COMMISSION. Tariff—Creation of a Traffic Commission of five members to investigate and advise Congress on tariff revision of the free-sugar provision of existing tariff law; amendments increasing import duties on dyestuffs; enactment of an anti-dumping provision to prevent dumping of foreign made goods at less than foreign market prices; authorization for the President to retaliate against foreign nations prohibiting importation of goods from the United States by laying a pound charge against imports from offending nations.

COTTON FUTURES ACT. Providing a prohibitive tax on cotton sold for future delivery in fictitious or wash sales.

PHILIPPINES LAW. Reorganizing election laws; establishing an elective Senate and promising independence whenever the judgment of the United States the Philippine people demonstrate capability for it.

LIST OF APPROPRIATIONS.

Appropriations for all purposes were: Army $2,438,852; Navy $2,075,500; Diplomatic and Consular $5,335,098; Indian Affairs $1,841,907; Education $1,743,743; Fortifications $4,432,000; Indian Affairs $1,841,907; Military Academy $3,425,690; Navy $2,075,500; Post Office $13,300,085; River and Harbor $138,299,285; Permanent Improvements $121,074,673; Shipping Bill $50,100,000; Deficiencies $72,500,000; Rural Credits $6,000,000; Good Roads $2,000,000.

Grand Total $1,637,583,682

In addition, Congress enacted an unusually large amount of miscellaneous legislation, including reorganization of patent office; provision for trial of space system in place of weight system for payment for railroad mail service and leasing to the Interstate Commerce Commission determination of the method and rate of pay; creation of a national park bureau in the Department of the Interior; the public lands water power bill; the grain government law; extension for a year of the government war risk insurance bureau; and other law making bills of lasting importance.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION. Proposed legislation which failed of enactment and has gone over until next winter includes the Immigration bill; the corrupt practices act to limit campaign expenditures for election of the President; Vice-President and members of Congress; a vocational education bill passed by the Senate; conservation legislation, including the public lands water power bill; Shields navigable streams; water power bill, which failed in conference; the oil leasing bill, including relief for California oil men; a flood control bill, which passed the House; and a bill to establish citizenship for natives of Porto Rico.

Four treaties were ratified by the Senate. The most important was the long pending Nicaragua convention providing for the construction of a canal route and the acquisition of the canal zone and the treaty with the Republic of Haiti, providing for an American financial protection.

BOYLE QUILTS COMMITTEES AFTER ROW

School Director Is Piqued by Action of Mrs. Hawes, Whom He Charges With "Butting in" Upon His Committee

Miss Brown, President of the Board, Attempts in Vain to Placate Belligerent Member; Goes to Session of Whole

After accusing Mrs. Harriet E. Hawes, chairman of the board of education, of "butting in" on the affairs of his committee, that on community activities, School Director Harry L. Boyle tendered his resignation as a member of all educational committees at a meeting last night. Following a five-minute display of verbal pyrotechnics, in which Boyle, president of the Education Board, and Miss Annie Brown, president of the board, were the principals, the entire affair was referred to a committee of the whole. Boyle's sweeping resignation has not yet been accepted.

It all happened when the teachers' committee, of which Mrs. Hawes is chairman, recommended to the board that the University of California Extension Division be permitted the use of the automobile shop and science laboratory at the Vocational High School. The community activities committee, of which Boyle is chairman, recommended against the proposal. Rising to his feet, Boyle protested hotly. He declared:

"I'll not have this. Mrs. Hawes has nothing to do with my committee. She has no right to interfere with the affairs of my committee. I had supposed that the chairman of a committee had the confidence of the board, and that whatever recommendations that committee might make would not be questioned by the other members."

DEMANDS CONFIDENCE. "I cannot have the confidence of the other members of this board. I don't care to associate with them. I don't want them to associate with me. I'll resign from this committee."

At this point Miss Brown interposed a number of conciliatory remarks. They met with little success. "I resign, I resign," Boyle insisted. Things quieted down for a time while routine affairs of the board were attended to. Then when all present thought the row was at an end, Business Manager D. W. Pratt read the following, introduced by Boyle:

"I hereby tender my resignation as a member of any committee I may be a member of."

"Oh, Mr. Boyle," pleaded Miss Brown. "Reconsider, that. There's been a misunderstanding. I am sure, and it can't all be explained and straightened out without trouble. We wish to work all together in harmony."

"Yes," explained Mrs. Hawes. "I had no intention of interfering with your committee. It's all a mistake."

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE. "If this board has no confidence in me," Boyle began, when Miss Brown interrupted:

"Now, Mr. Boyle, we are not children. Let us proceed with the business of this board. This matter will be considered by the committee of the whole."

Thus, for the time being, ended the latest war which Boyle has started in the ranks of the educational body. The director's grievances will be considered at a meeting next week. The question as to whether or not the university classes are to use the Oakland classrooms was not decided yesterday. This controversial point will also be decided upon at the committee meeting which considers Boyle's case.

Local Railway Heads Fear Further Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—That all is not smooth sailing in the railroad situation after the dissipation of the threatened strike cloud, is shown by the attitude of several local officials who echo the declaration of President E. P. Ripley of the Santa Fe that the eight-hour law will be ignored until the United States Supreme Court has passed upon it. There is a general feeling that the present lull is only an interval before a storm and that the whole acute trouble will culminate again. Railroad officials claim that the new law is an attempt to regulate, not hours, but wages.

The possibility of opposition to the new law from an unexpected quarter is developing. The passenger trainmen, who now work on a five-hour day and 100-mile schedule, would be made to suffer if the railroads decide to enforce the new law to the letter, and they are feeling uneasy at the prospect.

President William Sproule of the Southern Pacific Company has refused to comment on the situation in any manner. President Charles M. Levy of the Western Pacific said that there is no occasion for uneasiness now, as the railroads have until January to give the most careful consideration to their policy.

Women Work to Aid Oakland Week

That the big industrial exposition, to be held at the Civic Auditorium during "Try Oakland First" week will be a financial and artistic success is now assured. And the women are going to do it.

Led by their president, the members of the Civic Center are rallying to the standard of the Oakland manufacturers to show the world what Oakland can produce.

Over 2000 invitations to participate were sent out by them to women all over the state and a favorable response is requested from every one.

Among the more prominent members in this campaign are Mrs. A. B. Carter, president; Paat President Mrs. E. C. Robinson; Mrs. Frank Havens; Mrs. Chas. Leonard Smith; Miss Ethel Moore; Mrs. Joseph R. Knowland; Mrs. Charles S. Chamberlain.

Besides the active campaign the Civic Center has taken a booth and will entertain extensively during the week.

BURGLARIES REPORTED. The following burglaries were reported to the police today: W. H. Menwick, 403 Perkins street, frightened intruder away, articles of small value; Donald McKinnon, 1805 Telegraph avenue, clothing stolen; Mrs. Mary Collins, 530 Linden street, silverware and coins.

Collapse Follows Divorce Action Mrs. Monnette Under Medical Care Suit Discloses Separation of Years

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Suffering from nervous prostration as the aftermath of the trying ordeal of publicity in connection with her divorce action, Mrs. Lucille J. Monnette, who filed suit for divorce on Wednesday against Orra E. Monnette, a prominent banker and clubman of Los Angeles, is under the care of physicians in her apartments in the Hotel Clift. She refuses to make any statement as to her domestic affairs, and refers all inquiries to her attorneys. As soon as she has recovered sufficiently to travel she will return to Los Angeles. Although Mr. and Mrs. Monnette had been living apart for several years, the filing of the divorce action came as a surprise to their friends. It is understood that the suit will not be contested by Monnette and that a property settlement has already been made out of court. The terms of the settlement are said to have been so liberal that Mrs. Monnette will not need to worry about her future maintenance. Monnette is 44 years old and his wife is 41. They were married in Columbus in 1895. Shortly after his arrival in Los Angeles Monnette became prominently identified with the business and civic life of the city. In addition to being president of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank, he is president of the library board, vice-president of the Sons of the Revolution, governor of the Society of Colonial Wars and a member of the municipal annexation commission. Mrs. Monnette was Miss Carrie Lucille Janeway of Columbus before her marriage. During her residence in Los Angeles she has also figured prominently in social affairs. Incompatibility of temperament is the reason assigned by Monnette for the separation. "The filing of the divorce action," he said, "was absolutely necessary to terminate a situation which had become irksome to both of us. While our friends generally presumed that we were living together, it is a fact that we have been separated for several years. It is this false position that neither of us desires to continue."

Cosgrave's Removes to New Location

Cosgrave's cloak and suit house, for the past ten years at Twelfth and Franklin streets, has removed to its new location, 523 Thirteenth street, where preparations are completed to care for increased business.

The Cosgrave buyer has scoured the style centers of the east for the best and smartest fall garments, which are now on exhibition at the new quarters. Nicholas R. J. Cosgrave will be in personal charge of the new establishment.

Carroll Charges Wife With Deserting Him

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—After living together a year and three months, Paul T. Carroll, merchant, and his wife, Edith Audrey Carroll, have come to a parting of the ways. A suit for divorce has been filed in the local courts. Carroll, who was 42 years old and a widower at the time he married his 24-year-old wife, daughter of Robert S. Atkins, another merchant, alleges that his wife deserted him. The Carrolls have one child. The bride has the child in her custody and is at the home of her parents.

DEMANDS DAMAGES FOR SON'S DEATH

Father Places Claim Against City for Employee Killed on Duty.

Frank T. Miller filed notice with the city council today that he expected the municipality to pay him $3000 for the death of his son, F. Stuart Miller, who died from injuries received in an automobile accident August 23, while a deputy milk inspector for the city. His claim was referred to City Attorney Paul C. Mort for a ruling.

Young Miller, while on a dairy inspection tour with Dr. C. C. Wing, assistant health officer, was killed when the automobile in which the two were returning to Oakland from Suisun overturned. His father claims that the city is liable for the payment of damages because young Miller was an Oakland employee at the time of his death and was on the city's business when the accident occurred.

The council today adopted a resolution instructing Dr. Kirby B. Smith, city health officer, to attend the annual conference of the State Board of Health, to be held October 9 to 14.

Nurse Unable to Identify Japanese

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 8.—Failure of Miss Myrtle Wynore, a nurse at the Alameda county infirmary, positively to identify S. Nabori, a Japanese gardener, held in the Alameda county jail, as the man who attacked her Monday evening, has been followed by the prisoner's release. Miss Wynore, before whom Nabori was taken twice, said she resembled her assailant, but that she could not identify him as the man who had attacked her.

JORDAN HOPES TO SEE EARLY PEACE

Six Months to End War; Plans Perfected, Says Noted Educator.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 8.—That definite plans were outlined for bringing about peace in Europe was the declaration made by Chancellor David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Stanford University, who returned last night from Washington where he had been called in conference with President Wilson and other peace advocates. According to Dr. Jordan, the conference agreed that any one of these plans would be feasible.

1. A congress of executives of neutral nations might take the lead in bringing belligerents of Europe together.

2. Congress might appoint representatives of other neutral congresses to act.

3. United States might act independently.

Dr. Jordan said he was not at liberty to give out the details of the plans, as they would be handled by President Wilson himself.

"In my judgment, without relation to the conference with President Wilson," said Dr. Jordan, "the President can do nothing before the coming election, as it would be unwise to undertake a peace movement that would be attacked politically at home."

Dr. Jordan said he looked for peace within six months. The movement for peace, he said, must come from the United States. The Ford Peace Conference, he said, was growing in importance. "An honorable peace," said the chancellor, "is one which means the territorial integrity of Belgium and France."

"Father" Proves To Be Woman

Conscription Act Exposes Strange Case

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Called to the colors as a man, a woman who has masqueraded in male attire and pretended to be married to another woman so her husband could not find her, was forced to acknowledge her sex before the army medical board today.

Unhappily married six years ago and her two babies dead, this woman left her husband and so she could get work, masqueraded as a man and "married" her boarding-house keeper's daughter. The circumstances of the "marriage" were astounding.

Having a real man sweetheart who had betrayed and deserted her, the landlady's daughter faced real trouble. She told the man-woman, who had confessed the disguise to her and her mother. So they were "married" and took a cottage in London. When the baby was born none of the neighbors suspected, but that the "husband" was its father.

The "family" lived this way for four years, and had it not been for the conscription act the ruse might never have been discovered. Her plea for exemption from service on the ground of "indispensability" having failed, and, facing a medical examination by the officials, she confessed.

CANAL OPEN AGAIN. PANAMA, Sept. 8.—Twelve ships passed through the Panama Canal yesterday. Their maximum draught was twenty-eight feet, which indicates that the dredging of the slide which recently occurred at Cucaracha has been virtually completed.

WITHDRAWAL PLEA OF MEXICO READY

Delegates to Joint Commission Completing Study of Border Conditions.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 8.—At the resumption here today of the conference of the Mexican-American joint commission seeking a permanent settlement of the international difficulties, it was regarded as probable that before this afternoon's deliberations were completed the Mexican delegates would make a formal request for the withdrawal of General Pershing's punitive expedition from Mexican territory. Papers bearing directly upon this phase of the situation were studied yesterday by the American commissioners.

Ideas relative to the maintenance of order along the border were exchanged today. With Franklin K. Lang heading the American delegation, presiding, the commissioners engaged in discussion, which was expected to realize in progress toward a better understanding of the objects in view.

"FRAT" MEN ACT. STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 8.—Fraternity men have taken notice of the letter of President Ray Lyman Wilbur, demanding payment of debts within two years, raising of scholarship and suggesting the one-year residence before going into a fraternity. Most of the fraternities seem to favor the president's rulings.

BIG BATTLE IS RAGING IN RUMANIA

Russians Take the Offensive Against Germans and Bulgarians, the Struggle Being From Danube to Black Sea

Teuton Allies Have Captured Coast Towns in the Eastern Part of Country, As Well As Storming Fortress of Dobroie

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The beginning of a great battle in Southeastern Rumania, where the Russians have taken the offensive against the Bulgarians and Germans, is reported in a Rome despatch given out by the Wireless Press.

The struggle is now under way over the whole front in Dobruja between the Danube and the Black Sea.

Fighting is desperate near Baltik, on the Black Sea Coast about ten miles north of the Bulgarian frontier. This information the wireless despatch says was received in Rome from Petrograd.

An undated official Bulgarian report received here today says that the Bulgarian and German forces which are invading Eastern Rumania have captured the fortress of Dobroie and the seaports of Baltik, Kavarna and Kali Agra.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—Violent artillery fighting is under way in the front in Greek Macedonia, the war office announced today. The principal engagements are in progress on the Struma front in the region of Mount Beles and in the vicinity of Lake Doiran.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 8.—Russian troops which have crossed the Dvina River north of Dvinsk were attacked repeatedly by the Germans yesterday, the war office announced, but succeeded in holding the captured positions.

SOFFIA, Sept. 8.—Bulgarian and German forces have occupied the Rumanian towns of Dobroie, Baltik, Kavarna and Kali Agra, it was officially announced today.

It is admitted that the Rumanians have occupied the Hungarian town of Orsova.

German gunners are shelling the railway station at Turnu Severin.

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—Russian and Rumanian troops have been driven back north of the Rumanian town of Dobroie, after the repulse of strong Russian attacks against Dobroie, it was officially announced this afternoon.

Art Collector Is Not Bill Collector

Edward Fricks, art dealer, made a trip to Chicago to acquire a painting of the Thane by Turner, only to discover that the canvases were a copy with the result that he sued George Clark, an electrician, to recover expenses of $240, and lost through a decision of Judge Waste today, who held that the journey was for other purposes as well as to secure the painting.

According to the testimony Clark told Fricks he was the heir to a genuine Turner painting, a portion of his father's estate in Chicago and incidentally that he was financially embarrassed and would sell the painting for $100.

Fricks accepted the offer and according to the testimony spent $125 in a trip to Chicago, where he secured the painting. Then he said he paid $100 to London art experts, who declared the picture to be a copy and not an original.

Quotes Taft Opinion to Defend President

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—In a speech today defending the Mexican policy of President Wilson, Representative Harrison, Mississippi Democrat, read to the House a telegram President Taft sent to the governor of Arizona on April 18, 1911, saying that he was "in favor of intervention or reversion of the consequences of intervention and that we must use the greatest self-restraint to avoid it."

Representative Denison of Illinois, Republican, interrupted to say he, too, approved that, but the cases of Taft and Wilson were different—that the former's policy was a temporary one and the latter's permanent.

Harrison insisted that the same conditions confronted both.

Philippine Bonds Soon to Be Offered

MANILA, Sept. 8.—Governor General Harrison has named as secretary of interior Rafael Palma, for several years a member of the Philippine commission. Governor Harrison himself assumed the portfolio of public inspection, including the bureau of education and health. Other bureaus hitherto included in the department of public instruction have been transferred to the department of the interior.

NATURE WILL CURE CONSTIPATION

All she needs is a very little help. Constipation is caused by accumulated waste in the Colon (Large Intestine) which under present mode of living, Nature cannot entirely remove without a little help.

The rank poisons in this waste get into the blood circulation, too, and make us feel depressed, blue, bilious and incompetent—really sick—if allowed to go a little too far.

All the help that Nature asks, however, is Internal Bathing with Warm Water, applied by the "B. I. Cascade" Tube, in a perfectly natural and rational way. It cleans out all the waste and poisons from the Colon and keeps it as sweet, clean and pure by occasional use as Nature demands for a perfectly healthy condition.

So invariably successful has this new and improved method of Internal Bathing proved to be that over 600,000 Americans are now enthusiastically using it. Constipation, ward off disease, and keep the system vigorous and efficient.

The "B. I. Cascade" Tube, being shown at The Owl Drug Stores. Call and let us explain how simply it accomplishes its purpose.

POOR RICH GIRL NOW HAS HOME; HUBBY, TOO

MRS. COLE PARKER, who, as Ramona Borden, was known as "the poor little rich girl."

Daughter of Condensed Milk Borden Wedded to Chicago Attorney in L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—Ramona Borden, the 21-year-old daughter of Gail Borden, multi-millionaire condensed milk manufacturer, who is known throughout the land as "the poor little rich girl," has solved the problem of the homeless life brought about by the estrangement between her mother and father by taking a husband.

Miss Borden was married today to Cole Parker, 26 years old, a Chicago attorney, son of George S. Parker, a wealthy Wisconsin man. The wedding occurred at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Valk, 935 West Chester Place. The Rev. Mr. Wallace officiated. Only near relatives and friends were invited.

The ceremony was followed by a dinner at the Hotel Alexandria. Later the young couple left for a honeymoon trip through Southern California by automobile. They will live in Chicago.

Miss Borden first called attention to her restless and homeless condition by running away from Snell Seminary in Berkeley in 1910. She complained of the restraints of the school and the fact that the trouble between her parents gave her no home. She was found after several days at the Palace Hotel. In 1913 she again disappeared, this time from a sanitarium in Pompton Lake, N. J. A nation-wide search was made for her. She was found in New York. Her mother then took charge of her and she was brought to Los Angeles to make her home with her grandparents. She has lived in Los Angeles since and seemed to enjoy life.

MANY TO SPEAK AT NEW LIBRARY

New Carnegie Building Will Be Dedicated With Songs and Addresses.

MELROSE, Sept. 8.—The Carnegie Public Library at Forty-fifth avenue and Foothill boulevard, which is now completed, will be dedicated at a ceremony under the auspices of the Melrose Improvement Club and seven other improvement organizations of this and neighboring communities tomorrow evening. Marking an important step in the development of this district, the dedication will be attended by many of the residents. Local musical talent will furnish the program and addresses will be given by leaders in local improvement work and library trustees.

The program follows: Address of welcome, M. W. Nicholson, president of the Melrose Improvement Club; song, "The Deathless Army," Robert B. Todd; address, Warren Olney, library trustee; songs, "Villanelle," and "Songs That My Mother Taught Me," Mrs. Stella Margaret Jellison; address, Harrison S. Robinson, "The Future of the Library," M. B. Batterson; address, Harry Boyle; aria, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," Miss Lucy Van De Mark; address, Charles S. Green, librarian, "The Future of the Library," Miss Van De Mark and Robert M. Batterson; violin solos, Harold Hilton. Accompanists on the piano will be Mrs. H. Hilton, Miss Gladys Lotter and Paul Steindorf.

$100,000 DEFAULT JUDGMENT SOUGHT

Attorneys for Zar Z. Brandon File Action Against Tractor Concern.

Default judgment in the sum of $100,000 was the modest request asked of Superior Judge William H. Waste today, by attorneys for Zar Z. Brandon in his suit against the Sullivan Tractor Company over patent rights and alleged infringements. The motion took the court by surprise when the sum was named and although an interlocutory decree in favor of the plaintiff was granted, the $100,000 proposition was continued for six months with the possibility that the fact of the action will settle the difference out of court.

Brandon claimed that the Sullivan Company was using certain of his patents in the construction of their tractors. He obtained a restraining order from Judge Farmer recently and the defendant failed to make an appearance, with the result that testimony was put on today by the plaintiff in support of the motion for default judgment.

OWEGO'S MASTER TELLS DIVER STORY

Shot Was Not Intended to Hit U. S. Steamer, Captain Barlow Says.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Details of the firing on and stopping of the American steamer Owego by a German submarine in the English channel on August 3 were told by Captain E. W. Barlow of the Owego on her arrival today from Rotterdam.

Captain Barlow confirmed cable reports that he was unable to see the submarine because of a thick haze. He said that apparently there was no intention on the part of the U. S. boat's captain to hit the Owego and added that he had no complaint to make. Captain Barlow said:

"We were hearing the French coast at the time. I was at dinner when my mate told me he had distinguished gun fire close at hand. I went on deck in time to hear the sharp reports of a gun nearby. There was a calm sea with a thick haze. I could not see the submarine, but several shots were fired and a projectile passed the stern of our ship. I stopped and shortly after a submarine appeared. We were flying at the time an American flag, two or three feet long and on both sides of the ship were painted, together with the name of the vessel and the letters 'U. S. A.'"

The submarine commander ordered me to come to a halt, which I did in a boat. His first words were:

"Captain, you should be more careful; this is war time."

I replied by saying "You should be more careful. Didn't you see my flag?"

"But I signaled you to stop," the officer said, to which I replied:

"How could I see your signals when I could not see your boat?"

The commander was very pleasant. He examined my papers, then gave me a written permit to proceed. He signed the permit "Heimbrinck, Kommandant U."

I am satisfied he did not intend to hit my ship and I have no complaint to make.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—Rheinhardt Grumann Jr., alleged member of an arson ring operating on the Pacific coast, was sentenced today to two years and six months and a day in San Quentin penitentiary upon his conviction in the Superior Court Wednesday for the alleged burning of a house in Watts. Four other members of the ring were arrested. Of these, August Muntz, caught at Oakland, is serving a term at San Quentin. Grumann was found in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, but refused to return without extradition papers until a rule by the Canadian police caused him to choose voluntary return rather than face proposed charges of being a German spy.

"You Little Rascal" Results in Jail Term

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Cornelius Meyer chuckled at Miss Jennie Carlson of 119 Twenty-sixth avenue, today.

"You little rascal," he remarked.

Miss Carlson called the police. Cornelius was sentenced to six months in the police court as the result of his flirtatious behavior.

UGH! A DOSE OF NASTY CALOMEL

It Salivates! It Makes You Sick and You May Lose a Day's Work.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic and take a spoonful tonight. It doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick. I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tonic tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.—Advertisement.

PRISONER IS ACCUSED OF MANY CRIMES

Man of Aliases Charged With Many Felony Offenses Taken—Allegations Range From Sheriff's Murder to Forgery

George T. Smith, Sought by Officers of Three States, Is Arrested by Police in Reno on Information From S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Nearly every crime on the calendar from murder to passing counterfeit checks, is charged against George T. Smith, alias A. B. Smith, alias W. B. Dashiell, who was arrested in Reno, Nev. today, on information furnished by the San Francisco police.

Smith's alleged crimes were committed in three specific states, he is charged with the murder of a sheriff in Luna county, New Mexico, and ending with the obtaining of $300 worth of merchandise from a department store by fraud. It was the fact that Smith wore a suit of clothes included in his loot obtained here, that local detectives were able to identify him in connection with the alleged New Mexico murder, and what brought about his capture.

He will be taken to New Mexico to be tried on the charge of killing Sheriff Dwight B. Stevens on February 20, 1914. His other alleged crimes are listed by the police as follows: Impersonation of B. A. Bonnell, a broker of Kilmann, Arizona; depositing of a fictitious check at the Hotel Roslyn, Los Angeles; passing of fictitious checks in San Diego, and a sensational escape by throwing pepper in the eyes of a police officer who had him in custody.

Detectives Gaughan and Harrison were directly responsible for the apprehension of the prisoner. They were notified by a local department store of the purchase of the merchandise, and of his attempt to cash a $100 check. The description tallied with a circular issued on the murder of the New Mexico sheriff. The detectives located the loot at 2392 Bryan street, but the owner had disappeared. The Reno authorities caught Smith wearing the suit that was missing and notified Chief White.

Hanlon Named As "Name Commissioner"

Cold type has not that appeal that the persuasive words of a silver-tongued orator can make to the heart. Perhaps that is why all the candidates in America refused to relinquish their name, that Oakland, California, might flourish alone in glorious possession of the appellation. If so, this will be remedied. The Chamber of Commerce may send a special envoy to the various hard-hearted Oaklanders to weave a magic spell of words, that might "bring home the bacon."

Dan Hanlon has been offered the office by the manufacturers' committee. If he accepts, he will be sent as special envoy to the City Councils of Town Trustees of the cities in question to ask in person that which, in letters, brought Oakland, (Cal.) nothing but a few hundred yards of publicity. He has not yet accepted the commission, however.

Anticipate Riot When Salmon Fleet Arrives

PITTSBURG, Sept. 8.—Deputy sheriffs are preparing for trouble when the main fleet of salmon fishermen arrives at the local packing house, as the result of a dispute that ended in a near-riot last evening when the advance boats came in. The entire catch of the advance boats was rejected on the ground that the fish were not in good condition.

The local fishing colony at once demanded that the fish be accepted, and deputies were summoned when the affair became acute. The fish had been in the boats for two weeks, the company declares. The main catch will not be accepted unless it is in better condition.

FRIGANZA TO SING IN GIDDY COMEDY, 'CANARY COTTAGE'

TRIXIE FRIGANZA.

Morocco's New Production to Be Heard at Macdonough

For nearly twenty years Trixie Friganza has been singing, laughing and dancing her way into the hearts of theatergoers and has won a popularity of which any actress might be proud. She made her first professional appearance on the stage in Charles W. Hoyt's "A Trip to Chinatown," at the old Madison Square theater in New York City, where it established a new record for a run, showing continuously for more than 500 nights. Her role was Mrs. Guyer, the widow. She then appeared in a number of other New York productions.

When Edward E. Rice produced "The Pearl of Pekin," with Louis Harrison as the star Miss Friganza was given a small part, but her first important musical comedy engagement was in Frank W. Perley's production of "The Chaperones," which ran for many months at a prominent Broadway theater. Then Miss Friganza went to London, appearing in "The Belle of Bohemia," and "The Whirl of the Town." Upon her return to this country Henry W. Savage engaged her for the role of Mrs. Madison Croker in "The Prince of Pilsen," and when he sent that play to the Shaftesbury theater, London, in May, 1904, Miss Friganza was still playing the role.

In the season of 1907-8 the actress made her first vaudeville appearance, but since that time has appeared in many big musical productions, including the Winter Garden shows. Miss Friganza was born in Cincinnati and is of Irish-Spanish parentage.

In "Canary Cottage," Oliver Morocco's greatest musical success, which opens at the Macdonough Theater Monday, September 11, Miss Friganza has a very important role and one that displays to advantage her rollicking personality.

Man Kills Self With Policeman's Revolver

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—While Mounted Patrolman Stuart Bursby directed traffic at a "Loop" street intersection today a man believed to be A. E. Hanan, South Omaha, Neb., walked up behind him and slipping Bursby's revolver from the latter's pocket, shot and killed himself. He was about 32 years old.

Notes and postal cards addressed to Hanan were found in the dead man's pockets. About a dozen postals were signed by a Miss Charlotte Walters, an employee in the city water department at Denver, Colo. The last postal from her was dated August 18 and read: "Why don't you write?"

SCIENTISTS HAVE NEW STRUCTURE

Second Church Edifice Ready for First Service of Large Congregation.

The opening of the new edifice of Second Church of Christ, Scientist, of Oakland, at Thirty-fourth street near Telegraph avenue, will be on Sunday, September 10. Services will be held at 11 o'clock, 3 o'clock and 8 o'clock in the evening.

The new edifice is constructed of brick, steel and terra cotta, and is a particularly elaborate structure, seating 1200 in the auditorium and 700 in the Sunday school.

IS MODERN RENAISSANCE. The architect designed the building in the modern renaissance style, with the exterior in a light colored pressed brick, with granite steps and buttresses and Indiana limestone columns in the portico.

This edifice, costing a little over $30,000, has been equipped with one of the finest organs of the Pacific coast at an expense of over $10,000. The furnishings are on a scale in keeping with the monumental structure and, together with the site, represents an investment of $125,000.

The marble entrance vestibule opens into an ample foyer which leads to the auditorium. Over this main entrance door in the portico is the inscription from Genesis: "There, be light," and this has been brought everywhere throughout the interior. Entirely unlike the gloomy and depressing sense which inevitably accompanies the dark cathedrals, formerly thought to be the architect's goal in church design, this building charms one by its very freedom from the conventional, by its dignity and its beauty.

The auditorium, in keeping with this design, is especially free from the usual treatment of church interiors. It is noted that the designer's effort has been to avoid all ornamentation of an elaborate type which would tend to distract the attention of auditors from the lesson sermons, and yet the mural decorations have been so skillfully handled that a rich, soft, restful, peaceful quiet pervades the whole interior.

By four short luxuriously carpeted flights large numbers may reach the upper foyer and auditorium without difficulty.

The library and offices of the church officials have been finished in hardwoods.

AIM AT BEAUTY

The art glass effects have been conceded to be most appropriate and pleasing. By the use of new electrical devices beautiful lighting effects have been secured in line with the indirect systems. An improved oil burner simplifies the heating problem, while the ventilating apparatus furnishes 23,000 cubic feet of fresh air per minute, evenly distributed by the new mushroom system. An air filter screens all particles of dust from the fresh air supply before it enters the building.

A great deal of credit is due the church members and officers for their earnest, conscientious work in bringing a happy conclusion upon an edifice, which has been pronounced to be one of the finest of this denomination in the United States.

The board of directors and building committee consists of: F. B. Kerrick, president; Garrett Owen, Mr. Miner, Mrs. Lillian Winter, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Inez Ballard, E. S. Leonard, M. Beekley, Mrs. Garrett Owen and Mrs. L. G. Ewars. R. A. Hunter is first reader, G. W. Keeler second reader.

Swimmer Rescued From Death by Broker

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Harry B. Gregg, stockbroker and brother of Wellington Gregg Jr., is receiving congratulations on his bravery and promptitude as a life-saver, as news of an act of his Wednesday near McNear's Point has just become known. Thanks to his quickness in plunging into the bay, H. I. Taylor of Berkeley, an employee of the Berkeley Oil Company, is alive today. Taylor was a member of a picnic party at McNear's Point and had gone in bathing, while his fiancée was waiting on the shore. He was caught by the strong flood tide and was rapidly being carried away.

The tide carried Taylor past the stern of the yacht Bonnie. Down on board which Gregg was entertaining friends, Gregg noticed Taylor's plight and threw him a life-buoy, which failed to reach him. Gregg then plunged into the water. He swam to Taylor with the life-buoy and held him up until a boat had been lowered.

Soldier of Fortune Must Go to Jail

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—Ed Hall, soldier of fortune and confessed smuggler of Chinese, was sentenced today in the United States district court to three months in the county jail upon his plea of guilty to an indictment returned in 1911. Hall was arrested in San Diego recently when he disembarked from the refugee ship Glacier, after five years in Mexico, where he fled. Judge B. F. Bledsoe, in imposing sentence, said Hall's voluntary exile was punishment for his offense.

Hall's wife, Ethel, was caught and served a term in San Quentin penitentiary. She died recently, soon after her release.

Car Shortage May Close Oregon Mills

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 8.—Oregon lumbermen declared today that if the southern Pacific could not furnish them with a large number of freight cars within ten days, many mills would be forced to close and suffer of costly and irreparable damage. The Southern Pacific has placed an order for 3000 new cars and expects to deliver them in the Northwest within thirty days.

LABOR FAMINE FEARED. PRESNO, Sept. 8.—A scarcity of labor to harvest the raisin crop is beginning to make itself felt, according to growers. Japanese workers, usually plentiful, are fewer this year than at any time within the last ten seasons. The I. W. O.'s, under their agricultural workers' department, have taken several contracts on large acreages at prices generally higher than that paid to other contractors. The wage averages about $3 a day.

SORORITY QUARANTINE RAISED. STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 8.—The Chi Omega sorority house near the hospital was released from quarantine for diphtheria by Palo Alto health officers when it was reported that none of the members except Miss Elizabeth Buckingham has contracted the disease. Miss Buckingham is now in the isolation hospital and is reported improved in condition.

Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the two squirrel boys, and Sammie Littletail, the rabbit chap, were hopping along over the fields of the farm of Uncle Wiggly Longears, the rabbit gentleman, one day.

"What can we do to have some fun?" asked Billie, for there was no school, and it was now the long vacation, and when you can't have fun in school you must make it outside. "I'd like a good time," said Billie.

"So would I," spoke Johnnie's brother, "what shall we do?"

"Let's dig a cave," spoke Sammie Littletail. "That will be fun I think."

"Where can we dig it?" Johnnie wanted to know.

"In one of Uncle Wiggly's fields," said the rabbit boy. "He won't care, I'm sure. But I'll ask him."

"But how can we dig it?" asked Billie. "We squirrels aren't as good diggers in the ground as you rabbits are even though we do sleep under ground."

"Oh, I'll dig the cave," offered Sammie. "My paws are made on purpose for that. Come on!"

"But we must ask Uncle Wiggly," Billie said.

"Oh, sure!" agreed Sammie. So the three animal boys hopped over to the hollow stump ramble where the bunny found him sitting on his front porch reading the paper.

Uncle Wiggly, may he dig a cave in one of your fields? We want to play we're Indians," said Sammie.

"Oh, yes, I guess so," answered the bunny. "I'll ask him. We want to dig in the carrot field, for the carrots are mostly pulled up, and you can do little harm to make your cave in that empty field."

"We will," promised the squirrel and rabbit boys. "Thank you!"

"Off they went to dig the cave. Sammie began to sort of making a slanting hole in the ground, and the squirrel and the bunny saw him going to loosen the dirt so Billie and Johnnie could carry it out."

"Then we'll have a cave," he said. "His two squirrel friends thought this just fine, and soon the dirt was flying in a little while the cave was a big hole under ground with earth on the sides, bottom and top. As Sammie was digging and the squirrels carrying away the dirt Johnnie saw something up in the roof of the cave, sticking down like a gas chandelier."

"Oh, it's a yellow icicle!" he cried. "It has grown down from the roof of the cave!"

Sammie laughed and then said: "That isn't an icicle. It is a yellow turnip. It must be a big one to stick down this far, for the roof of our cave is quite thick. Up above, the green top of the carrot is sticking in the air above the earth."

"Well, we don't need to worry about that," spoke Billie. "It comes down from the roof just like a pole or hook on which to hang your things. I'm going to hang up my coat on the carrot hook."

"So'm I," shouted Johnnie and Sammie. Soon the long, big carrot was holding the animal boys' coats, their collars and ties and the bunches of sundries had brought with them. They tied them to the down-sticking part of the carrot by pieces of string and then began digging out the dirt to make the cave bigger."

It was about this time that Uncle Wiggly started for his daily walk across his farm.

"Bring me back a carrot," called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat housekeeper. "I need a big one for the soup."

"You shall have it," answered Uncle Wiggly.

Over his farm fields hopped the rabbit gentleman. He saw the beams cutting the poles as well as any circus performers could have done, and the hops were as good as jumping over the humps of the frogs. He saw the onions racing each other down the rows in the garden and the cabbage and the lettuce and the turnips while the vegetable oysters clapped their shells in joy.

"I must have a very nice farm," said the bunny gentleman. "I hope there is a big carrot left for Nurse Jane."

He came to the carrot field. Most of the long, yellow vegetables, shaped like ice cream cones, had been pulled up, but there was still one large one left.

"That will just do," said Nurse Fuzzy Wuzzy. "Uncle Wiggly said, 'I'll pull it up for her.'"

Uncle Wiggly stood beside the big carrot. He took hold of the green top and began to pull. But the carrot would not come up. "We know why, but don't tell Uncle Wiggly just yet."

"Why, that is a strong carrot!" he said. "It is almost as strong as an oak tree. I guess I'll have to take off my glasses to pull that."

So he took off his glasses and pulled, but still the carrot would not let itself be lifted up from the ground.

"I guess I'll have to take off my tail suit, but I'll make it bunny uncle, twinkle pink nose. 'Maybe I can pull it then.'"

So he took off his nose—Oh, listen to me—I mean his silk hat—and pulled. But still the carrot would not come up.

"I guess I'll have to take off my coat," said Mr. Longears. "And when he had done that and bent his back, pulling with all his might, he suddenly over his knees went in a moment, the carrot quickly coming up and falling on top of him."

"There! I pulled it!" said the bunny. "I wonder how I made it tick me!"

Then he looked at the carrot. Tied with pieces of string on the end of it were the coats of the animal boys, their knives and everything they carried in their pockets. For it was the carrot that stuck down through the roof of the cave, which Billie, Johnnie and Sammie had dug, that Uncle Wiggly had pulled up.

"I never mind. I had to hit the carrot," he said. "You can stuff dirt in the hole in the roof." And they did, keeping on with their pile while Uncle Wiggly took the big vegetable home to Nurse Jane. And he had to laugh nearly all the way. So if the rain doesn't turn into chocolate drops and fall all over the coconut pie when it wants to go to sleep in the bathtub I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and the bunny's cap."

THE OFFICERS OF THE OAKLAND CLUB held their usual monthly luncheon party last Wednesday, following the directors' meeting in the morning and the opening luncheon session of the club in the afternoon. The affair was held at Hotel Metropole.

In the presence of but their immediate families, the wedding of Miss Florence E. Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mitchell, and Bertram S. Booth was celebrated last Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents in Linden street, Rev. L. D. Rathbone, Congregational pastor, officiating. There were no attendants and the bride wore, instead of conventional white, a traveling suit of navy blue topped with a large blue tailored hat to match. Immediately after the ceremony the young people left for Southern California, where they will spend a fortnight before returning to their new home in Boye street, Piedmont.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Kern, who make their home at the Hotel Shattuck, left this morning for the East to attend the wedding of their son, Herbert Kern. They are being via the Canadian Pacific, going to Seattle by steamer. Before returning they will visit Glacier Park and other noted points of interest.

NO "STICK" IN PUNCH, Is Stanford Edict

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 8.—"Spiking the punch must go," Student Advisor Warren Paul Stanford told the student body this morning at an assembly called for the purpose of instructing new students in rules and regulations of self-government.

He makes no difference how you use liquor. There are definite regulations against bringing liquor on the campus. Any organization found putting booze in the punch will be dealt with properly."

Various preparations for the Baby Hospital Bazaar—for the past two seasons one of the most important of benefits from the point of view of society—are already well started, and the hundreds of more matrons and belles enrolled in the numerous branches are planning unlimited afternoons of sewing and teeing in behalf of the big event.

Marking, president of the Baby Hospital, called the first big meeting of branch presidents and members last Wednesday morning at the hospital, and afterward there was a vast luncheon party at which things were talked over. It was expected that the coming fair, on October 19, 20 and 21, will be quite the most brilliant and successful—and all the rest—yet in the three years of their history. There seems little doubt of that.

The committees and branch presidents have all been named, with Mrs. Charles R. Lloyd made such a remarkable success of the Berkeley Auxiliary of the Exposition Woman's Board, in charge of the bazaar, Mrs. Arthur Dowling, latterly of the decorations and Mrs. Frank K. Mott of the music; refreshments are in the hands of Mrs. W. Briggs, who is in charge of the bazaar, and Mrs. William Knowlton to plan amusements that will put in the shade all those of former benefits.

As for the ball that will close the bazaar on the third night, it is in charge of Mrs. Charles E. Wingate, with Mrs. Clifford Mason in direction of the boxes and sale of tickets.

The presidents of the branches this season are as follows:

Full Branch, Mrs. William Ede; Olive Branch, Mrs. Selma W. Woodworth; Holly Branch, Mrs. A. Richards; Linden Branch, Mrs. William Knowlton; Walnut Branch, Mrs. W. P. Burroughs; Blooming Branch, Mrs. Elizabeth Page; Manzanita Branch, Mrs. W. B. Senbury; Laurel Branch, Mrs. Florence Selby; Topmost Branch, Mrs. Fenton Foster; Elmwood Branch, Mrs. L. L. Granger; Hawthorne Branch, Mrs. H. S. Robinson; White Elephant Branch, Mrs. E. P. Cutting; Elderberry Branch, Mrs. W. Briggs; Acorn Branch, Mrs. Joseph P. Knowlton; Emerald Branch, Miss Eleanor Knowlton; Maple Branch, Mrs. Charles J. Young; Birch Branch, Mrs. J. L. Fuller; Thimbleberry Branch, Miss Miriam Marks; Clinic Mothers' Branch, Miss Wood; Miss Wright; Forget-Me-Not Branch, Miss Bertha Holloway.

Needless to say, a large contingent from this side of the bay crossed last night for the carnival at the Teahua Ice Palace, for thus far it was the most thrilling public charity event of the season. The event of the evening was the crowning of the queen in her white and silver robes, by Mayor Rolph, and then expert in society with the rest-skated forth. The queen, Miss Eldorado Ashburn, who is well known in the eastbay, was a marked success as an artist on the ice.

Miss Mignon Wilson, daughter of John L. Wilson of Claremont, one of the most graceful of amateur skaters about the bay, carried off a prize for her costume that of Spanish dancer in red and yellow with some rare old Spanish lace that put it entirely out of the "Goldfront" class!

Among the largest of the parties was that of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fagan, who entertained first at a large dinner at one of the cafes. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren Hunt, Miss Ruth Perkins, Miss Florence Bandemann, Miss Helen Hooper, Miss Marie Hathaway, Charles Bandemann, Douglas Short and Edward Harrison.

Announcement has just been made of the engagement of Miss Doris Evans, one of the prettiest of the girls just turned out by the private schools last May, who was expected to be one of the belles of the season, to a young man, Mr. Charles Coffin of San Francisco, formerly of Indiana, some time during October. The date of the wedding is yet to be determined. Mr. and Mrs. C. Coffin of Indiana, has been living across the bay for the last six years, and is attached to the adjusting department of the Southern Pacific.

At exact date has not been set for the wedding, but it has been decided to have it a ceremony at the Evans home in the afternoon. Before then there will be much entertainment for the future bride.

Nothing has occurred at some time to so shock society in the east bay as the death of young Harry Butters, lieutenant in the British army, revealed by cable yesterday. Though everyone entering half says good-bye to life, no one could believe until the sad news came that he would be laughing back when the war was over.

Harry Butters, slain in Flanders last week, was the only son of the late Henry Butters and a half-brother of Mrs. Augustus Bray, Mrs. Lincoln Karmany and Mrs. Lee Gray (Marie Butters). He was a cousin also of Edward Norton, who is home on furlough from the American Ambulance Corps in France, and of Charles Chapin Kincaid, Ernest Percy was his particular friend in a coterie among whom he was immensely popular, when he was here. Much of his time had been spent in the east bay, where he received much of his education, and he had been gone with the British expeditionary force in France.

Mrs. Augustus Bray was with her sister, Mrs. Karmany, and her brother, Mr. Karmany, at the time the tragic cable came. It had been planned that both should go to Pacific Beach this week-end to inspect the new plan for the beach, but they are putting up there, but all their plans have been for the present canceled, for both were devoted to their brother and are overcome with his death.

As a farewell to Mrs. Harry Morton and Mrs. Dudley Kincaid, who expect to leave shortly to establish their home in Southern California, Mrs. Charles W. Kincaid gave an informal tea last Wednesday afternoon at her home in Linda Vista. Mrs. Melville Dozier, her daughter, assisted her in receiving the half-hundred guests.

Recently the Harry Mortons purchased a large orange grove at Glendora, not far from Los Angeles, and the many other Californians have decided to make their home with them in Oakland making some of the best of the best. Their approaching departure, of course, is inspiring a round of entertaining. Among those who called at Mrs. Kincaid's tea to bid the two young matrons au revoir were: Mrs. William Sharon, Mrs. George V. Faroy, Mrs. Charles Woodbury, Mrs. Samue Shepard, Mrs. Henry Wilson, Mrs. Mary F. Childs, Mrs. George Miller, Miss Prather, Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. Samuel Brock, Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook, Mrs. Henry Hinckley, Mrs. George Evans, Mrs. L. G. Burpee and others.

Mrs. Melville Dozier Jr. will give a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Harry Morton next Wednesday at her home in Linda Vista street, San Francisco, entertaining a number from this side of the bay.

The Claremont Country Club was again the scene of a jolly dinner dance last evening, when Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Saxe entertained more than thirty friends from the east bay in this manner. Miss Franklyn Saxe, attractive in a blue satin frock, very bouffant in mode and very pale in color, assisted in receiving the guests, among whom were:

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hay, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Parish, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dexton, Mr. and Mrs. A. Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. William Hart, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. William Clark and many others.

This enjoyable affair was inspired by the visit of a party of Eastern people who came out on an autumn tour of the West.

Wedding dates have been set at last by two of the popular bridesmaids of autumn, Miss Florence Mallett and Miss Herlinda Howell. Miss Mallett has decided upon a quiet, quiet ceremony on Wednesday, October 4, at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Holland Mallett of Claremont. Neither she nor Clarence Mallett is to be attended.

The date for the marriage of Miss Herlinda Howell and Charles William Heyer has been set for Wednesday, September 27, but this will be a larger affair. At St. Paul's Episcopal Church, with Rev. Alexander Allen officiating. Afterwards there will be a small reception at the home of the bride in Grand avenue.

None of the engaged maids of the younger set is having a more tenderly or with more unvarying enthusiasm than Miss Florence Mallett, who is to marry Clarence Burchfield some time or other this autumn.

There will be, among other festivities, two teas given in her honor next week. The first, at the home of Linda Vista, Mrs. Melville Dozier, her daughter, assisted her in receiving the half-hundred guests.

This enjoyable affair was inspired by the visit of a party of Eastern people who came out on an autumn tour of the West.

Wedding dates have been set at last by two of the popular bridesmaids of autumn, Miss Florence Mallett and Miss Herlinda Howell. Miss Mallett has decided upon a quiet, quiet ceremony on Wednesday, October 4, at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Holland Mallett of Claremont. Neither she nor Clarence Mallett is to be attended.

The date for the marriage of Miss Herlinda Howell and Charles William Heyer has been set for Wednesday, September 27, but this will be a larger affair. At St. Paul's Episcopal Church, with Rev. Alexander Allen officiating. Afterwards there will be a small reception at the home of the bride in Grand avenue.

None of the engaged maids of the younger set is having a more tenderly or with more unvarying enthusiasm than Miss Florence Mallett, who is to marry Clarence Burchfield some time or other this autumn.

There will be, among other festivities, two teas given in her honor next week. The first, at the home of Linda Vista, Mrs. Melville Dozier, her daughter, assisted her in receiving the half-hundred guests.

Recently the Harry Mortons purchased a large orange grove at Glendora, not far from Los Angeles, and the many other Californians have decided to make their home with them in Oakland making some of the best of the best. Their approaching departure, of course, is inspiring a round of entertaining. Among those who called at Mrs. Kincaid's tea to bid the two young matrons au revoir were: Mrs. William Sharon, Mrs. George V. Faroy, Mrs. Charles Woodbury, Mrs. Samue Shepard, Mrs. Henry Wilson, Mrs. Mary F. Childs, Mrs. George Miller, Miss Prather, Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. Samuel Brock, Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook, Mrs. Henry Hinckley, Mrs. George Evans, Mrs. L. G. Burpee and others.

Mrs. Melville Dozier Jr. will give a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Harry Morton next Wednesday at her home in Linda Vista street, San Francisco, entertaining a number from this side of the bay.

The Claremont Country Club was again the scene of a jolly dinner dance last evening, when Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Saxe entertained more than thirty friends from the east bay in this manner. Miss Franklyn Saxe, attractive in a blue satin frock, very bouffant in mode and very pale in color, assisted in receiving the guests, among whom were:

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hay, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Parish, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dexton, Mr. and Mrs. A. Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. William Hart, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. William Clark and many others.

FINANCES THE CRUCIAL QUESTION.

One of the most important questions to be considered by the joint commission for the settlement of the controversies between the United States and Mexico, now in session at New London, Conn., is that of financial assistance toward the solid rehabilitation of government and social order in Mexico. Aside from such emphasis as the commission may give to it, it is an absolutely vital matter with the de facto government of General Carranza, or any other attempt to restore governmental authority in Mexico. No government can enforce its authority and regulatory powers unless it has the financial strength both to win the confidence of the people and to show force, when necessary, sufficient to make its mandates the supreme law of the nation. The disorganization of government and the prostration of industry has been of too long duration and is too well known to permit the hope that organized, effective central authority may be erected from its own ruins. Foreign loans to the recognized authority is essential to success.

There has been much talk of the government at Washington lending its moral support to the negotiation of Mexican loans with American bankers. It is not likely such support, if proffered, will amount to much with private financial interests. Unfortunately for Mexico and for the efforts of the present administration to make the Carranza government a success, assurances of protection to private business in foreign countries have been shown to be entirely meaningless. Capitalists have paid approximately a billion dollars to find out how indifferent the American government may be when the interests of its citizens are assailed. The policy of the government at present is that Americans shall stay at home and keep their money at home.

If the commission is obliged to abandon the idea of getting financial assistance for the Carranza government in the United States, it must consider other possible sources of aid. If Mexico can wait until the European war ends there is a bare possibility of obtaining money from some other foreign country. Europe will have to pinch a long time before she can have much to invest abroad, but the political advantage of extending its material interests in Mexico would inspire great effort. It would be much safer for the United States and a guarantee against future conflicts with the Monroe doctrine if Mexico could raise her loans in this country, but when the government declines to exact protection for such investments capitalists will refuse to take the risk. It means almost certain loss.

CHICAGO AS PILGRIM CENTER.

"The inhabitants of the six little States which nestle in the northeastern corner of the American Republic do not possess the sensitiveness regarding local credit and prestige that characterizes the people of certain sections of the country. They surely do not claim a monopoly of either the intelligence or the virtue of the nation."

That this is the introduction to a leading editorial in the Boston Transcript, a journal gray and sombre with decades of unswerving loyalty to New England traditions, lends a piquant touch to a very extraordinary statement. It prefaces a peaceful discussion of the suggestion of one John Cotton Dana that a sort of public institute, to be founded in honor of the Pilgrim tercentenary, shall be located—where of all places in the United States?—in Chicago. The original idea was to found in Boston a great civic institution of political research, of information regarding every subject of government and of constructive legislation. It has the endorsement of President Emeritus Eliot of Harvard, President Hadley of Yale and Chancellor David Starr Jordan of Stanford University. Experts employed by this great foundation would amass all the facts necessary to the mastery of every governmental proposition and present them in absolute scientific candor to the people.

Where could there be such display of avidity for facts, such passion for mastery and such "absolute, scientific candor" but in Boston? Nowhere, we would have answered, but for Mr. John Cotton Dana—a good-sounding name—and his suggestion of Chicago. With daring effrontery this heartless iconoclast asserts that a transplanted New England has grown up in the Middle West.

Always true to herself, New England remains calm and chaste under the insult. With even-tempered reserve the journal that is a sort of bridge between the New England of a century ago and the present is content to say merely that "the location of the proposed institute's headquarters at Chicago would mean the complete sacrifice of its memorial function." Truly a subtle expression typical of the six nestling States of the northeastern corner of the Republic. Chicago and the rest of the country would not comprehend the significance of the Pilgrims' tercentenary!

ADMISSION DAY.

Tomorrow the people of California will enjoy a holiday during which they may reflect upon the glory of their State. On September 9, 1850, California was admitted into the Union; no American State, or any other State, for that matter, has grown so wonderfully and felicitously in sixty-six years.

California was never a territory. Four years after the stars and stripes were unfurled at Monterey in 1846, California passed from Mexican sovereignty to full Statehood. Through the efforts of the Native Sons of the Golden West, the date of admission was made a legal holiday. Under the auspices of this order, Admission Day is observed with appropriate ceremonies at some point in the State each year.

Besides providing the happiest of homes for the millions who have lived and are now living within its boundaries, California has contributed magnificently to the wealth and energy of the whole nation. Her gold vitally aided the government to forever establish the right of men to be free, and her citizens have always been found at trusted places in the government and in the business and social affairs of the nation.

Admission day is a happy and useful occasion; from contemplation of the achievements of the past we gather renewed courage to face the future, and pledge ourselves that California shall never be less than the dreams of her founders.

Alameda County units of the national guard which are to return home from the Mexican border shortly should be given a cordial welcome. When the call to national service was issued, by the President the local companies were quickly recruited to full strength, were among the first to start for the mobilization camp and the first on the border. They responded to duty in an emergency that at the time appeared grave and dangerous with that fidelity and patriotism that has become a tradition with the men of California. The danger is passed and they are returning to their normal civilian occupations. Their fellow-citizens appreciate their willingness to serve their country when their service was needed.

It is announced that because British authorities in Canada have been opening United States mails destined for Oriental ports a new post route to China will be adopted. San Francisco and Seattle business men charge that mail has been opened en route and trade secrets extracted and made use of. If any United States mail destined for the Orient or from the Orient to the United States has been opened at all it would seem to be a matter for the State Department to take up at once and vigorously. The Canadian government apparently has adopted the tactics employed by England in interfering with the American mail service with Scandinavia. Surely England would have no excuse of the nature of war emergency in meddling with the United States mails on their way to any Oriental destination.

Mrs. S. E. Holcombe is a candidate for mayor of Rapid City, South Dakota. This is her platform: "If elected I will repair the roadway in front of my house." In a dismal record of three centuries of campaigns of befuddlement and deception this is a star of hope, a reminder that veracity has not utterly perished from the political earth. If the people of Rapid City want a mayor who speaks what is warmest in her mind and lies closest to her heart they will elect Mrs. Holcombe. She dallies not with molasses to catch flies.

PLANTING AN ARMOR PLATE PLANT.

(From the Philadelphia Telegraph.)

One of the important questions now confronting the Navy Department is the location of the government armor plate plant provided for in the naval appropriation bill. It is possible the government may never construct this plant, but it is going to locate it, nevertheless.

Philadelphia, of course, is the only place in the country which can be appropriately, economically and conveniently selected, and the question ought not to be open to controversy. But Philadelphia has competitors. Birmingham, the thriving iron city of Alabama, claims it because it is not exposed to attack from the sea, being so far inland. It is not so far inland as Topeka or Kokomo or Green Gulch, all of which would be fairly safe from hostile invasion.

The real claim of Birmingham, however, lies in the fact that it has handy the material for the manufacture of armor plate. What it lacks is shipbuilding advantages. No war vessels steam up and down Jones valley, in which Birmingham is so delightfully located, and there is no record of the launching of dreadnoughts at Birmingham. It is different with the Delaware. The three establishments now equipped to manufacture armor plate are all in Pennsylvania, and they are here to be near the great shipbuilding activities on the Delaware river.

There was purely a business proposition. There was no sentiment or politics in the matter, and when the government finally plants its armor plate plant it will make a serious mistake if it does not reason from the business standpoint alone. The armor plate should be made where the ships are made.

NOTES and COMMENT

The masked bandit continues to hold up the railroad train. Civilization is no nearer to losing the robber than it was in the days of Robin Hood.

President Ripley says the Santa Fe will ignore the Adamson law, refusing to recognize it till an opinion is rendered by the Supreme Court. So here we go again.

Things are coming to pass, indeed. A jitney driver, who smoked a cigarette on duty, was fined $5 by a San Francisco police judge. Is this a free country, or isn't it?

The reduction in sugar of 75 cents a hundred tends to strengthen the belief that the price was put up arbitrarily. Nothing has happened lately that has a direct bearing on sugar to fetch down the price.

Alligators have been discovered in the Feather river at Yuba City, with everybody concerned in the discovery cold sober. California beat Florida in oranges. Is she now to give her a chase in alligators?

"Wealthy ranchman and wife to fly to Reno." But it is not on the sort of flight that so many take to that destination. They are to attempt it in a flying machine, which in itself establishes their amiability.

The story of the railway conductor who held his train twenty minutes while they obtained milk for a sick baby, receiving official praise instead of a reprimand, reads fine, but we wouldn't advise railroad men in general to try it.

"Plenty of money but politics hangs out over the 'threatening precipice,'" says the Colusa Sun: "Willows is past the millions in bank deposits. Prosperity is up all the way along the lines, and we would be happy people if not for the political difficulties that hang out over the threatening precipice."

The Huntington Park Critic takes this view: "Two school 'mams' have been dismissed from service in Alameda county for being married, and the Supreme Court has held that the dismissal should be sustained. So far as the average taxpayer is concerned, it matters little whether the teachers be married or single."

A correspondent thinks college boys and infatuated girls, both immature, find it too easy to marry—that justices of the peace and some clergymen are too ready to perform the ceremony. There might be more deliberation in these matters, but the persons most interested are always in a very dreadful hurry.

It is not expected in this day that the United States Senators shall engage in altercations characterized by the shaking of fists and the hurling of such epithets as "liar" and "changeling"; but when such ructions do occur, it is not a matter of astonishment that the representatives of Arizona and Kansas are the ones to figure.

The practical joker in San Francisco for three months kept the morgue officials and undertakers calling at Adam Stefanik's home to get his corpse. He wasn't dead, nor dying, nor even ill, and pretty soon he got tired of the joke, as one naturally would, and gave general notice to whom it might concern.

Seems to have tried both plans: "The editor of the Nevada City News likes the boys and he finds them often abused unjustly. And he surely regrets the manner in which some of them are treated. So he takes this opportunity to emphasize this fact: A boy can have a better time as a polite and well-behaved boy than as a rough. Having passed through the mill, we know."

The true character of a man under defeat is often illuminating. Willis E. Booth's message to Governor Johnson indicates sterling worth. The Republicans who supported him for United States Senator are more than ever convinced that their votes went to a man worthy of their support.—Riverside Enterprise.

South of the Tehachap there are 911 Protestant churches, with 158,207 members. In the entire state there are 2300 Protestant churches, with 313,093 members. The total value of church property of the Protestant churches in the state is over $25,000,000.—Washington Park Critic.

Like most things done in a hurry, it would appear that the new eight-hour law is not going to be very satisfactory to either side. It is certain to have a lot of flaws and return in the future to plague everybody concerned.—Riverside Enterprise.

It is better to be right tardily than to continue wrong all the time. Last year the National Educational Association went on record as strongly opposed to military drill in the schools. This year that body has reversed itself and declared in favor of military training, provided that "military ends should not be permitted to pervert the educational purposes of the school."—Callistogian.

EFFECTS OF A BAY BRIDGE

Project Considered From Viewpoint of Its Influence on Conditions in Oakland

By A. S. LAVENSON.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

In the discussions relative to the proposed bridge across San Francisco bay, all of the favorable points of the scheme have been thoroughly brought out, but nothing which I have seen or heard indicates that anybody had given much thought to the question of whether Oakland and the east bay cities would receive anything but benefit from the enterprise.

Everybody seems to have jumped at the conclusion that increase of population is, of itself, the chief aim and ambition of a community. There will be, of course, other results from the building of a transbay bridge, many of them beneficial. But undoubtedly the big idea that attracts support to the proposition is the prospect of population. Confirming the argument of the promoters that this would be a result, we have testimony of Mr. Paul Sinsheimer, expert of the State Railroad Commission. In speaking of the present condition of our local railway system, Mr. Sinsheimer stated that its problems of traffic distribution would be materially increased by the building of a bridge across the bay. We would be fortunate, indeed, if these were the only problems involved. I would not, at this time, raise the question of the wisdom of the proposed structure, were it not for the particular reason given by one of the large banks of San Francisco for advocating its construction. I quote from the circular letter as follows:

"One of the immediate possibilities that is not being overlooked by its proponents is the municipal union of San Francisco, Oakland and other east bay cities, the population of which is sufficient to make a new San Francisco the third greatest city in the country."

It should not be necessary to reiterate any of the reasons why we made two bitter fights against the proposition of submerging our identity and sacrificing the progress of the last decade in order that our good neighbor might boast of an increased population. The recollection of the unpleasantness caused by those fights and the satisfaction with which, supposedly, they were permanently made impossible of recurrence, makes it all the more a pity that feeling on the subject should be stirred up again.

I think it is time to present some facts which ought to be taken into consideration before finally deciding that the bridge will be an unmitigated blessing to us.

The statistics of the Oakland school department show that in the past five years our school population has increased 48 per cent, while the city's assessment has increased but 12 per cent. We are now discussing a bond issue for school buildings and are continually meeting an increasing demand for schools, no matter how fast we may build them. In the language of one of my correspondents, "We are advertising our schools in order to get more people here; and then have to build more schools to accommodate their children. It is a constant round of more people and more schools and a continual addition to the ranks of the non-producer in our midst."

It is admitted on all sides that our crying need is more factories for the employment of our people and the increasing of our taxable land values and factory products. It is frequently claimed that our tax rate keeps factories from locating here. A very small portion of our municipal revenue comes from the residence sections. Then how can we reduce our taxes by increasing the necessity for schools, playgrounds, police and fire protection, street lighting and repairs, all expensive attributes of residence sections, unless the occupants of those sections are employed here in creating the wealth which must produce the taxes for their maintenance?

The lack of balance of our population is shown by these figures: Our tax for school purposes alone last year was $1.09 on the hundred, raising $1,520,607.46. In San Francisco the tax for the same purpose was $0.4136, by which there was raised $2,228,548.28. In other words, with over two and one-half times the tax we raise only two-thirds of the money that San Francisco does.

Our assessment roll is a trifle over one-fourth that of San Francisco, but our daily average school attendance is more than one-half.

No intelligent man or woman begrudges taxes for the education of the future citizens. I am using school statistics only because they illustrate the direct relation between population and administrative cost. Communities, like individuals, must live within their means, and when their expenses are growing out of proportion to their incomes, it is the part of common sense to inquire into the causes. The experience of the past will be the experience of the future. Our increased tax as compared with that of a few years ago is due, not so much to waste as to the greater cost of providing for our larger population. It will be said by those who take only the superficial view that the more people the city has within its borders the more business will be transacted there. Not so in Oakland, at least, not in the same proportion. Compare the high-valued business area of this city, having a population of over 200,000, with that of San Francisco with a population of less than three times ours. Consider the vast difference in the number of business establishments of all kinds—banks, theaters, hotels and restaurants. Make a comparison of the bank clearings, postoffice receipts and railroad ticket validations—everything by which the business of a community is measured.

We must always come back to our record of 48 per cent increase in school population in five years with 12 per cent increase in assessment. Why should the proportion be different with the future increases in population when the increases are induced through similar causes? Even in Los Angeles, where the commercial and industrial growth is necessarily in full proportion to the growth in population, the people of all classes have been gathering in mass meetings demanding a reduction in taxes. They find the cost for schools, streets, etc., increasing at too rapid a rate for their income. This should at least impel us to pause and think what the result of an increase of population would be to us, where the population is not so well balanced.

One of the arguments in favor of the bridge was by way of showing the effect of improved transportation facilities between San Francisco and Berkeley. Ten years ago Berkeley and Alameda were about equal in population. With the building of the Key Route to Berkeley its population has doubled, while Alameda's has practically remained at a standstill. But look at the condition of Berkeley. With her large population she has insufficient revenue to keep her streets in repair or make other necessary improvements, by reason of the limited business district compared to the size of the city.

It is also argued that the bridge is necessary to assure safety to travelers crossing the bay. This is a speculation in future on which past experience cannot serve as a guide. It might be of interest, though, to point to the fact that in the past thirty years there have been

This is not a notice of a fight against the building of the bridge. I am merely presenting another view of the matter for what it is worth, so that the final decision need not be made on expert statements.

CREWS ARE PRIMED FOR LAKE MERRITT TRIBUNE REGATTA

Interclub Competition to Start After Marathon; Model

With a variety of events some stiff competition may be expected in The TRIBUNE Interclub Regatta, which will take place on Lake Merritt after the Marathon and Playground races tomorrow morning. Although the local crew which will row for the Mosswood Club has repeatedly shown superiority in the whaleboat races, the events in the regatta are certain to show no favoritism.

a big chance for the handsome cup offered by The TRIBUNE. The invincibles of Golden Gate Park, with J. B. Hill in direction, are sure to give an account of themselves, and the Spartans boast some strong men in the line. The two teams entered are the Crofton Sokol Club of Oakland, an especially well-trained crew, and the Naval Reserves, which will be represented by some of the cleverest rowers in the bay.

In the afternoon model yachts from across the bay will compete with local miniature windhammers in a contest for a trophy offered by The TRIBUNE. The local model yacht club has been organized

The following events will comprise the program of the Interclub regatta, which will start at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning:

Bowling on Green

The first rounds in the mixed doubles tournament of the Ladies Auxiliary and the skips of the Okland Scottish Bowling Club was played off yesterday afternoon and the drawing for the second round, on Thursday.

The tournament was planned to foster the relationship between the Oakland Scottish Bowling Club and its Ladies Auxiliary, which is, in everything except what the name suggests, an independent Scottish bowling organization. It is truly, an offshoot of the first-named club, but it has its exclusive membership and officers, and is governed by the Scottish Bowling Association's rules and the by-laws of the club.

Club, which were especially enjoyed by the bowlers. The auxiliary has naturally obtained the privilege of giving assistance in all matters relating to its business, and has been in the conduct of its members on the Lakeside bowling green.

Eight of the nine members of the Scottish Bowling Club entered the tournament, the one member who had unfortunately been prevented from the creation of a vacancy, naturally dropping out to avoid lengthening the tournament and thus would have imposed an undue tax on the ladies of the auxiliary. The ladies, by agreeing the tournament to be held within the limits of the three days, have thus secured semi-finals and a final. The prize is contested by the skippers and goes to the lady who bowls in the final.

There were eight teams entered in the final.

Mrs. Discher and Mr. V. Hamilton.
Mrs. D. and Mr. E. H. Hamilton.
Mrs. Howland and George B. M. Gray.
Mrs. Howland and George F. McMath.
Mrs. John and George F. McMath.
Mrs. Grace and George F. McMath.
Mrs. Grace and George F. McMath.

Henry Hume and Mrs. McMath and T. Evans.

The last two matches in the first round were played this week.

Mrs. Disher and Dr. Hamilton played 21 ends against Mrs. Rankin and C. McInnes, the latter winning by a score of 21 points to 10.

Mrs. Howden and George B. M. Gray played against Mrs. McMath and T. Evans, the latter winning by a score of 21 to 14.

Following the last match, which was for the second round or semi-final, was held as follows between the surviving teams:

Mrs. Disher and Dr. J. W. Hamilton against Mrs. Howden and George B. M. Gray.

Mrs. Weir and W. Weir against Mrs. Crawford and George F. McMath.

Other matches of the Oakland Scottish Bowls Club played during the week were as follows:

Robert Dalziel Jr., Dr. A. K. Crawford and Dr. E. R. Still (skip) against Rev. H. Evans (skip), R. B. Hepworth and T. Evans (skip).

of the former to 13 for the latter. In favor of Hepworth, Chalmers, Gray and Evans (skip) played against Robertson, Sill and Earsmann and Hume (skip), resulting 22 points to the former against 13 to the latter.

Baird, Earsmann and Chalmers (skip) against Paterson, Gray and Hume (skip)—Chalmers 24, Hume 16.

Baird, Sill and Chalmers against Robertson, Taylor and Hume (skip)—Chalmers 22, Hume 19.

George Smith, one of the best camera operators in this part of the State, will take the pictures, and his aim will be to get the face of every athlete in the picture at least on one occasion.

If you win a bar you will get to see the movies of the race and the big Hippodrome vaudeville bill free on Monday night, when the prizes will be presented from the stage of the theater.

Running short of fuel coal, the cannery tender Lehna, of the Red Salmon Cannery Company, was compelled to run into Tongue, Ore., and load enough coal to bring her to this port.

Schooner Espada sails today for Cape Horn with merchandise and lumber, under command of Captain Sarrino.

British schooner Coquillam City arrived at Victoria today after a hard and fast passage of one hundred days from New Castle, Australia, where she loaded a cargo of coal for Goldard harbor, but after leaving port about six weeks she sprung a leak and Captain Abbott was and started for Victoria.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE, Oakland's greatest evening newspaper, assures its advertisers that reaches every day over 250,000 readers.

TRIBUNE'S PAGE OF BUSINESS, MARKETS AND FINANCE

READING HOLDS LEAD ON EXCHANGE Railroad Securities in Fair Demand; All Industrials Strong

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The New York Evening Sun's financial review today says: Notwithstanding active realizing sales in today's operations, the movement of prices in the greater part of the session was in the direction of higher levels, the market again exhibiting wonderful capacity for absorption throughout the last of active issues.

Last-hour trading was active, with Reading, which sold to a new high record, the leading feature. An unusually poor government crop report issued toward the close of business was scarcely noted in the stock exchange. More interest was shown in a few of the rails, but the general disposition of traders to steer clear of the rail transportation shares was evidence, although actual investment demand for the mortgage issues, both in the stock exchange and over the counter, presented signs of expanding. Reading, which is in a class apart from the general rail list, was among the leaders in the day's trading and in spite of enormous profit-taking in it, prices were maintained at a higher level, without side buying reported at the best figure of the session.

The money market conditions promise to favor the stock market for weeks to come and it is therefore believed more than likely that speculative and semi-speculative operations in the stock exchange and in the outside market will continue to run in active volume.

Comment is freely made among old timers in the street that this is the biggest industrial market they have ever seen and expect to see it continue on a gigantic scale because of the stimulation provided by immense gold receipts, the full force of which appears to be concentrated upon the industrial list instead of being distributed among rails.

Private banking interests in buying Utah Copper, which has been accumulated for some time, according to well informed sources, that declare foreign liquidation from France probably entirely completed and floating supply of the stock is very small so far as speculative needs are concerned.

For some time past conservative interests have been predicting that Utah would cross Anaconda.

Investigations show that several factors are entering in the underlying strength displayed by Utah, including advance knowledge of negotiations for the purchase of a large part of its 1917 production of metal.

Utah is looked upon as the premier company in the prophyl group and its stock is held by prominent interests in the trade. Its cost of production is under eight cents a pound.
